Thread: [\[Official\] Squad | Recruitment #1](#)

Divined - March 13, 2016, 6:37 pm

This is the first recruitment for Squad. Squad is a group which is based around making money online. It's main goal is to gather individuals which are skilled in all possible domains and combining them for the greater cause, which is earning money. A key asset you need to have to be able to join this group is co-operating with other people in a friendly matter.

Everyone who is recruited to the group will be put under a temporary trial status. He's going to have to prove his worth for him to remain in the group, since we're not looking to have members sit around and do nothing. After proving their worth they will be gaining a regular member status which stands as their verification within the group and also proving their dedication to the Squad.

In order for the members to prove themselves, they're going to have to be working under a leader, depending on the domain which they're going to be assigned to, according to their skill set. Once they are a part of that domain it is their duty to work projects out with the leader which they do believe could be valuable to Squad.

We are going to be pushing a lot of products on the market within HF but we're not going to be remaining only within HF's boundaries when it comes to making money online.

The recruitment form can be found below, be sure to dedicate time to it. Remember that you shall not PM a leader of the group to check up on your application's status. Post your application below.

I have been buying/trading BTC for a while now outside of Hackforums, but I hope to bring my business in here soon. I have done trades with users such as Mr Mc Epic and Wraith in high quantities, and I look forward to extending my business ventures some more. Aside from that, I have done SE work to get free items and BTC from multiple sites to help increase my current profits. I also sell online accounts that I have obtained through cracking such as Spotify and Netflix. Currently business is doing well but I am looking to learn more from the Squad to discover new avenues to make more money.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

I have worked in a group before, both for college projects and for my work. I am a team player and always think about the needs of the group first before myself. I will always help those who request it and will not turn down anyone who genuinely needs assistance.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

I can bring the knowledge that I have gained both in college, my work, and from Hackforums into this group. I will share all that I know and will not be hesitant to invest in new business ventures. This group is about making money and that is the main reason I am filling out this application, it is so that I and the people in this group can make money.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?

Yes, I understand that I need to be dedicated to the Squad. Being that I am not in any other group means that I have no choice but to pledge allegiance to the Squad.

Skill-set:

- I would argue that I am trusted. I know how/when to keep my mouth shut, I've been here since 09, never had a single issue in the 100's of transactions I've had on and off site.

- Back when BTC was not used as often I also worked as a PP middle man for two big stressers on HF, and I ensured that they got every single penny they earned and keeping only the amount I needed for my services.

- Writing articles at a proficient to advance level. (All of them being SEO friendly)

- Am familiar with and have used Wordpress, Blogger, most website panels.

- Basic HTML

- I understand how to use Social Marketing as a sales platform. A year ago I was on facebook with a fairly successful gaming niche however due to a T.O.S violation they shut that down so now I'm testing out Instagram. Here's an account I started recently, I'm trying to grow this so there are no fake followers. <https://www.instagram.com/diydopenails/>

- Affiliate marketing- <http://www.pleasedontbuythis.com/> (This is more of a conceptual project, mostly just improving my writing). Gonna start posting more as Uni. winds down.

- I do CPA in my free time to make enough money to buy books and some food for myself. Most of my time is spent in University (which I am graduating from in 2 weeks)

- My biggest asset is my real life work experience. I have done everything from retail to being a line cook to dealing when things were looking down.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?: Yes I have. I understanding that we work as a group but that there are leaders, and everyone needs to listen to the leader to get the project completed in an acceptable/timely manner.

Past work:

- I have a very diverse work history, I have worked online and offline, mostly offline though.

- For my CPA/Affiliate past I will need to P.M. someone as I would rather not post the sites/methods I use, if I am being considered please feel free to send me a P.M or let me know who I need to go to.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?: I've been around the block, I have foundational knowledge of almost anything you can throw at me in regards to internet marketing and sales. I'm a versatile guy, I dabble in everything but have mastered anything. From GFX to affiliate marketing for adult companies, or utilizing social media to sell/drive traffic. If the group ever needs anyone who can just hop on and be put to work in random places I'm the guy for that.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?: I expect to get out of this what I put into it. So yes I do.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?
I've been leading multiple groups. Whether it be for a website project to beta testing a website, I've led countless people and made sure everyone co-operated.

Past work:
I make websites on a daily basis. Just look at my threads. Some of my notable projects are Hackforums.co and will be BTCE.Co

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?
I can open many doors for this group. I'm quiet known on HF and i've made services that are also quiet known on HF. Currently i'm in the process of making even more, such as a payment processor.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?
Of course. I'll be fully dedicated to the group. I'll even make projects under its name.

Skill-set: Whitehat: Sales, of any particular product. I specialize in Blackhat money making methods though.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before: Yes, me and one of the members on here ran a business together in which we made over $20,000. I can prove this in PMs if you'd like.

Past work: Like I mentioned before, I made over $20,000 in a different community under a different alias selling digital items. I can prove this in PM all you like. I nowadays make all of my money online from blackhat means.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot? If your aim with this group is to include members who make money, together, I can help immensely. I'm really only on here for money most of the time. The reason I left the community I was in was I always told myself once the money stopped coming in, I was out. Same applies to anything I do online.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad? I'm fully willing and able to dedicate all of the time necessary to fulfill my role in the Squad.

Edit: I am already in due to the previous arrangements with TBL, this application is to remain after the period agreed upon.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before? Yes, I have worked in many group environments. I currently work in a kitchen which is constant, tight quarters, with the same workers day in and day out. I do my best to work together with my co-workers to successfully get our meals out on time and carefully made. (Side note: Our food is ranked top 10 in the country)

I'm also apart of a few HackForums usergroups. A lot of personalities come in and out and I try my best to get along with everyone to help maintain a healthy, happy environment. I'd really want everyone in the group to cooperate and get along to the extent I'm willing to put in.

Past work: This can include everything from white-hat to black-hat.

- Culinary arts
- Catering for political events
- Social Media Marketing
- eWhoring
- And am currently looking into CPA and Flipping BTC

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

I'm very cooperative and also have a very positive/funny attitude. I understand when it's time to be serious and when it's time to joke around. It's great that the common goal of the group is to make money, but whose to say we can't have fun along the way? That's one attribute I'd bring to the group upon acceptance. I would fit in nicely with a Social Media team, or any other team you see fitting as I have a raw determination and would really like to see any project I'm assigned to help succeed.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?

Yes, Which is EXACTLY what I'm looking for on HackForums. I really want to be apart of a team who sets a goal and does their absolute best to accomplish it. I have the Time/Skills/Resources and patience to do whatever I can to help this group succeed.

I appreciate you taking the time to look over my application! I promise you, you won't be disappointed if you decide to recruit me. I'm willing to go the extra mile to make this group one to be remembered, Thank you.

I do anything from eCommerce (dropshipping) to the nitty gritty stuff of selling malware, bots, crypters, etc. For the past 4-5 years on Hack Forums, I picked up a lot and taught a lot as well. Making money is my number one priority. Believe it or not, most of my campaigns are done off site, and Hack Forums is just some extra income.

My skills range from Graphics Design, Online Monetizing, Search Engine Optimization, Programming, Social Media, CPA, etc. As mentioned before, the past 4-5 years I've been on Hack Forums was just spent on how to make money.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

Yes, I worked in many group co-operating environments before. Back in the days, many groups had divisions and each divisions were assigned to make a tutorial, program, etc. every few week or so. I was one of the many that participated in such programs - ranging from groups such as The RATS Crew, Techsperts and Reverence.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

I'm a hustler by heart. I'm always looking to make money. But at the same time, I'm a team player. If there's ever an instance that I'm in need of money, I know I can get it easily.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?

Yeah, I'll be 100 percent dedicated. I've been apart of this forum for over 5 years, I know how to represent whatever group I'm in... Whether it be throughout the subforum, or Hackforums as a whole.

I now have four years experience in coding (yes, I started with 12) and I always loved making money. As you can see from my HF Threads, I have currently a lot of projects up for sale and all of them are created by me. I finished developing a few more products (Three Twitter BOTs, Universal Scraper Free and premium Version) but I can not manage so many products at the same time. That's why I am currently looking for partners. I have also gained experience in Software Advertising and marketing strategies. But I do not only have skills in Software related topics, I managed to use a small niche a few month ago and now made more than 500$ without any work/cpa/ppi/similar things. I have never done anything real blackhat because I do not want to harm people and I really hate scammers.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

Yes, I have created a lot of products and software with the help and/or ideas of other persons, for example: Sp@m Nuke with the help from Akzius and a currently still unreleased twitter bot with the help and ideas from RYAN REYNOLDS ?.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

I like working together with other people on projects. Also, I could create many new products for the group and find some sellers for my unreleased products. I could help people to create, manage and sell software, too. In my opinion I am a really friendly person and I nearly never get angry. I also never scammed.

Skill-set: eWhoring, Graphic Design, Game Design, Programming.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before? Yes, I'm employed by a registered company in England, we teach children everything from programming Minecraft servers to creating real games in Unity. I work alongside a fantastic team of people to organise camps and events. Other than real life situations, I have worked with people in various online projects ranging from websites to game design.

Past work: eWhore Mentor, Thread Design #1, GFX Shop and websites on request.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot? I am one of the most hardworking, passionate and dedicated people on HackForums. When I want to achieve something I make it happen, no matter the difficulty. I am without a doubt one of the best eWhores on HackForums and my statistics with earnings and people requesting mentoring prove that. I am constantly seeking to better myself in every aspect of life, be that online or offline. You won't find a more suited person for Squad than myself, I can assure you of that. I don't feel that I need to throw about pretty colours and icons to make you notice my application, I am confident that upon reading it you will realise and am one of the best applicants here.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad? Yes, and you won't regret it.

Thank you.

Skill-set:

Even though it might not be much I hope it'll be enough at least.

Producing Music

My #1 skill-set and passion, and also what I live for is to produce music. I have been doing that for roughly 7 years now and I'll never ever stop doing it.

I mostly produce EDM, such as Melbourne Bounce - Hardstyle - Hands Up etc.

Back in 2014 I won Basshunters contest (For those who know who he is haha). And that was a huge achievement for me as Basshunter was the one who made me start producing music from the beginning.

I've also been able to make some money when producing tracks. I'll link you that below. :)

E-Whoring:

I'm not sure if this counts as a skill but I'll put it in here just in case.

I've been eWhoring for a while but I've also been taking a pretty big break between 2014 until now. I started a little bit now in 2016 and have been able to make some money out of it. I don't know what it is but I feel like eWhoring is something i'm kinda good at as I always end up making money once I sit down and do it. I'm good at SEing and good at manipulate the guy i eWhore into thinking i'm a real girl etc.

Cracking:

Cracking is something i'm pretty good at as well. I haven't been doing it for long but still I've learned a lot about it lately. That's also a good way to make some money out of. But right now I don't have any kind of generator so I don't even bother selling accounts manually.

But once I get a website generator up I'll open a shop and see how it goes.

I've been cracking for around 5 months or something like that and it's been working like a charm. So if someone needs some kind of help when it comes to cracking I'll be here for sure.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

Yes I have. I've been working in a group a few times, from eWhoring to producing music.

And I'm comfortable with it and I work good in groups.

So that's something I can do for sure and have 0 problems with.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

I'm an active member on Hackforums and I'm Online daily.

I'm always in a good mood and i'm willing to help out others if they need help with anything.

I feel like I can contribute towards this group and be active in group activities.

I'm nice and polite to everyone, it doesn't matter who it is.

I'm currently producing a lots of new tracks and I'll sell them soon and then I would be able to do contests in the name of the group to get the groups name out there.

I always try to contribute and make contests even though money might be a problem sometimes, but I just love seeing people happy and I enjoy doing it. So if I do some contests even though my economy might not be so good it doesn't really matter for me, as long as I know others are happy and appreciate it, because that's what pure happiness is.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?

Absolutely yes, I'll be more than dedicated.

I hope to get into this group as I feel like it has a lot of potential.

Altcoin trading:

Altcoin trading, a very profitable but risky way of making money. I did this a year ago, but after a while I stopped with monetizing online. I now started again a few months ago, and I'm finally up to date again. I have already made a little bit of profit, but since I invest my money in multiple projects I haven't had that much of a profit yet. I can both do day trading and longterm trading, but I prefer day trading because of the fast profit and instability of most altcoins. I'm open to learn, and share my knowledge.

Monetizing Social Media:

I know how to grow and monetize social media, especially Instagram. I know open methods but also private methods which can get you a lot of followers, and I have multiple ideas for monetizing. I own a ~4k Instagram account, but I'm not really growing it. I am planning on buying/making a stat account soon when I have more time and funds on my hands.

Selling overall:

I have been selling things since I was little, from toys to console games. I know where to sell, what to sell and most important how to sell. I love doing it and I want to do something with this when I'm older.

I've put away all Blackhat activity, I run 100% whitehat now.

-Product Researcher

I'm a Product Researcher, I specialize in marketing and the interaction of the product and their user(s). I make the product fits the users need and I improve products that do not fit those needs.

-Currency Exchanger

Not really a skillset but I've been exchanging a lot, last month over $50k exchanged this is also my main source of income. I've been able to grow a stable costumer base in the course of a few months.

-Project Manager

I currently run a off-HackForums project, this project is to create a new online platform for students. I'm in charge of the product and the team as well. There are about 7 people (employee's) working on this.

Two coders, two marketing-experts and a couple of extra guys for financial work and content creators.

I'm able to oversee everything that is going on in projects and make sure everyone does their piece, and also does it correctly. I'm also the link between the employee's to make sure no miscommunications happen.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

Yes, I have and I'm willing to do it more often.

Past work:

Currency exchanging:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5012533>

2 products I launched: (Around $1000 in profit from those 2)

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5110814>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5118828>

For more information about my student platform, please PM me and I'll give you all the details. I don't really want to post it on HF.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

I think my product researcher skills will help out future product releases of the Squad, also if the Squad ever decides to run a big project I'm confident that I can be a really good project leader and bring that project to its full potential.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?

I understand, I'm online on HF... A lot... And I can put a good amount of that time into this group.

- Flipping Currencies & Currency exchange.
- OG twitter Accounts.
- Social engineering
- Social Media.
- Stock Analysis
- Doxing/Web Forensics.
- Pentesting.
- I know some programming languages.
- Friendly.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before? Yes, both in real life managing my business (computer repairs) and online (I am working with my friend to code a cracker, which you will see in the market shortly).

Past work:

- Buying items then flipping them for a greater price (social engineering as well for this which is blackhat).
- Buying and selling stocks.
- Currency Exchange.
- Computer Repair service (local).
- Jacking accounts and selling them on, e.g. twitter.
- Selling products, e.g. my twitter jacker.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

I make both a decent amount of money online and in real life, especially for my age as I have a job as well as running my own small business. Considering this group is about making money, I may be able to give some tips that have helped me, and learn from other people.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?

Yes, of course, you have the right to kick me out (if I get in) if you ever think that I am not pulling my own weight or am not helpful in anyway.

Age: I prefer not specifying my age, but I can tell you I am over 18.

Timezone: GMT +1

Skill-set:

I have been studying business and marketing strategics for the past two years now. I am quite an innovational person with a lot of expertise in forcing projects out to real life. I finished second in a massive Danish tournament about creating an innovational business-project alongside my group, we also went to European Masters, but we finished around 16th or so there.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

I currently work in a store and in my free-time I work on a project called FiPe. FiPe is a future project that will be made to insure the safety of animals; we will be producing collars with an in-built chip that allows the owners to see various information about their animals alongside a GPS-tracker. Currently we are in production alongside some big-time business fellas, who are helping us enforce our project into real life.

Past work:FiPe –Bringing animal safety to a whole new level with an informational-database about your pets at home, from anything to fish, cats to your craziest animal pets. Our job is to insure that your pet is safe in every matter it can be by using up-to-date chips. Lost your pet? Use the GPS-tracker function.

Multiple other innovational projects –I have also been running various other small-projects that has either been disbanded or sold on. One of the big ones I used to run alongside some friends back in primary school was a website where students could upload their assignments in various sections, sharing their assignments with other and potential new students, who were in heavy need of help. It was obviously sort of a cheat website, and we did not go too big into it, we mainly just did so in order to download a file, you had to pay a specified amount of points, which could be gathered by doing surveys, which just ended up paying for server hosting and so on – I re-call we ended up selling it for a couple thousand dollars.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

I am a very innovational, marketing and business strategically aimed person who is looking to expand his, already, broad knowledge and possibly enforce a new project alongside people who I may just get to know in Squad. I need people who are sharp in other areas than the ones I am, who are ready to work hard to make the big bucks. I plan on starting my own project/business in the future, as I like being my own boss, and I know I can handle it. I feel like you should let me in Squad because I am a very patient person who is also extremely nice, I rarely get angry, and most of the times I am doing my very best in order to make everyone laugh and, well – money.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?

Yes, and I am ready to dedicate my time solely into Squad, as I am looking to turn something small into something insanely big in the future – that sounds extremely wrong, but you know what I mean. I am serious about this, and I want to make money just like everyone else, but apart from many others, I know what it takes; living off a small wage for the first couple months, because you just simply can not afford paying for your own salary. Give me a chance, I will not let you down.

eCoLoGy - March 14, 2016, 6:33 pm

I'll keep my application simple:

The group is about money and I love money.

We're on HF and in fact I sell some stuff like my crypter here (to make money obviously).

Other than that, I was owner of a group (Pirates) but recently sold it so I want to be part of another group.

Skill-set: This can include everything from white-hat to black-hat.

Skills: Professional Writer and Content Creator

Marketing (Did a lot of marketing from marketing small sites to music bands to local and international countries too). Big experience with CPA.

Languages (Fluently speak English Arabic and Italian. Plus I'm a beginner in Hebrew and Spanish) Professional in Leadership and Management and hard worker under pressure.

Social Engineering- Professional. I've been like 6 years doing online stuff. Did almost every single method out there. And I have a vast experience and knowledge about making money online.

P.s: I'm checking what other members are putting in their applications. If such things count I have many many other skills.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

I did yeah. Joined many groups before. Most recent was when I made group a while ago of four experience and widely known members on here with the same goal of this one which was making money online. But I was surprised when I found out that even such members are so lazy when it comes to working hard. That's why it didn't work.

Past work: This can include everything from white-hat to black-hat.

Marketed ten bands and one solo dude on social media and offline and got them to the next level. Wrote some articles and won awards for. Plus I sold few for website owners to put on their site back then.

Social engineered many stuff from real and physical object to online money and crypto currency. Tried almost all the methods on the internet since I used to spend like 5 hours per day trying methods. So I can easily know the good and the bad.

Opened a small business in my county where I used to resell items I buy online with 500% profits per item.

I do have many more things but I can remember those right now.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

Because I'm a really hard worker especially when it comes to making money online. I also believe that such group will surely do amazing and revolutionary projects since we're all gonna bind our skills together to give a masterpiece. I do have different ideas that also would really be great starters for the group they will surely rock the market either on HF or outside. And I'm sure they would make bank once they're done. Plus I think I'd be better to fill out the spot because I have a long and vast experience about making money online. Thus I can differentiate between stupid time wasting projects and good ones.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?

Sure. I would be ready whenever the group needs me. I'll be working hard. And doing my job completely. Plus I would be suggesting ideas and discussing ones too.
Wish this goes well as I've been really searching for a group with such goals. Not a group of dead people.

My username is 52.

I am currently 22 years of age.
Timezone:
I live in the UK so my time zone would be GMT.
Skill-set:
I am quite good at marketing as I don't find it a struggle to sell items, whether that be digital or physical. This would be a whitehat skill-set.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?
I actually haven't worked in such an environment in the past, however I feel that this would be a wonderful chance to be able to participate in one.
Past work:
In the past, I have sold Netflix accounts, making quite a good of profit from it. I have also sold physical items such as clothing without much struggle. I do have a semi-autopilot method that I use myself that makes me a lot of money in a short period of time and it is to do with marketing.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?
I think I'd be better to fill out this spot as I'd assist other fellow members of the group to discover their own method and start making a lot of money. I'd also use this opportunity to learn about some techniques which I haven't come across before in the past and I'll put my own twists in to it to make some more side money for my own benefit. I'd also host frequent giveaways under the "Squad" name on HF to give members a chance to get some money that they may be in need of.
Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?
I do understand that I'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad.

I wish for the very best for all members of the Squad and the group it self.

Just started out with CPA a couple of days ago, and I'm already earning. Looking to scale it up, and maybe work with others. Also doing some Amazon refunding from cracked accounts. I'm also great at eWhoring.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

I've worked with others, in some projects, online, and also where I work irl. I'm a good person to communicate with, and I learn pretty quickly.

Past work: This can include everything from white-hat to black-hat.

I've made a couple of eBooks, about both eWhoring traffic & making money online. I've also earned some decent money by both eWhoring, and refunding from cracked accounts. Right now, everything I focus on is currently CPA.

I'm not saying that I'm better than everyone else, but what I'm saying, is that I'm an highly motivated person, that's trying my best to earn money online, with a good result. I've recently started out with CPA, which works quite good, as I've started less than 3 days ago, and already on my first day, I earned $10, without any effort once the setup was done.

You can check out my CPA Journey in the link below, where I'll update with my daily earnings, day after day, and I will for sure not give that thread up, and neither my online earnings.

Here's also an motivation speech, which has gave me lots of good things to talk about, and tells us to work, and work hard, untill we're satisfied. This is the thing that I'm doing right now, and it's the rule for my online money making journey.

Skill-set: I'm a forex / stock trader since the age of 15. Currently I can call myself experienced in that and I'm owning and participating in a lot of groups on Skype and Telegram and try to teach people how to trade. This is my only job at the moment and I am doing it full time.

Other skills that are not money-making-relevant are webdeveloping (HTML, CSS, PHP, Javascript), coding (.NET, C#, Java, C++) and a bit of webdesign.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before? I did and i still do. I'm a person born to be in groups, as i love to participate in anything, like discussions about any topic or creating a plan with my friends. I always treat group members as friends which is creating a chilled atmosphere and makes it easier to work. In university I'm in the financial staff and explaining freshmen the basics of investments.

Past work: I think this is the place for me to post one of my account statements, but I won't because they include sensitive data like my account balance, names and stuff. I'll be happy to provide them to you if requested.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot? I feel like there aren't many experienced traders on this board. I've been around in the investment section on here for months and have only read the same 3-4 names all the time. I will be able to introduce people that have never even thought about joining, have a discussion with others about details, or simply do some live trading with you.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad? Yes and I'm more than willing to do so. I feel like this is an awesome group, and honestly it is the first group I really feel like I'm fitting into. Besides that then i have some basic knowledge in php and html (still learning) and alittle vb.net (also stil learning and moving on to c++ soon). But I am alwasy open minded and looking to explorer and learn about new and exciting ways to generate income online.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

I have been apart of smaller skype teams of like minded induviduals where we basicly talked about everything there is to the world of making money online. (miss that group actually) Besides that then I work nightshifts at a very busy warehouse where group work and being able to co-operate with each other is a very important part of our work day. Other than that then Ive been playing group games Like WoW and League of legends, CSS also for quite some time.

Past work:

Currently I run a small "business" where I dropship and resell various products acquired from chineese wholesale sites, I have afew blogs running and working on Youtube with adsense atm too, besides that then I have some snapchat and instagram projects running along with some of my blogs with CPA on them.

Been selling various stuff online such as accounts for social media, youtube etc but stopped with that.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

Because I feel like I could both learn alot from you guys and then teach some of my knowledge back to you, I have been looking to find a group wich supports the same interest as me, and lately ive been trying to get more focused on online monetizing projects (have a few ideas for some great websites and webshops in my mind and alot smaller different kinds of projects running at the moment).

Age: I prefer not specifying my age, but I can tell you I am over 18.
Timezone: GMT +1

Skill-set:

I have been studying business and marketing strategics for the past two years now. I am quite an innovational person with a lot of expertise in forcing projects out to real life. I finished second in a massive Danish tournament about creating an innovational business-project alongside my group, we also went to European Masters, but we finished around 16th or so there.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

I currently work in a store and in my free-time I work on a project called FiPe. FiPe is a future project that will be made to insure the safety of animals; we will be producing collars with an in-built chip that allows the owners to see various information about their animals alongside a GPS-tracker. Currently we are in production alongside some big-time business fellas, who are helping us enforce our project into real life.

Past work:FiPe –Bringing animal safety to a whole new level with an informational-database about your pets at home, from anything to fish, cats to your craziest animal pets. Our job is to insure that your pet is safe in every matter it can be by using up-to-date chips. Lost your pet? Use the GPS-tracker function.

Multiple other innovational projects –I have also been running various other small-projects that has either been disbanded or sold on. One of the big ones I used to run alongside some friends back in primary school was a website where students could upload their assignments in various sections, sharing their assignments with other and potential new students, who were in heavy need of help. It was obviously sort of a cheat website, and we did not go too big into it, we mainly just did so in order to download a file, you had to pay a specified amount of points, which could be gathered by doing surveys, which just ended up paying for server hosting and so on – I re-call we ended up selling it for a couple thousand dollars.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

I am a very innovational, marketing and business strategically aimed person who is looking to expand his, already, broad knowledge and possibly enforce a new project alongside people who I may just get to know in Squad. I need people who are sharp in other areas than the ones I am, who are ready to work hard to make the big bucks. I plan on starting my own project/business in the future, as I like being my own boss, and I know I can handle it. I feel like you should let me in Squad because I am a very patient person who is also extremely nice, I rarely get angry, and most of the times I am doing my very best in order to make everyone laugh and, well – money.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?

Yes, and I am ready to dedicate my time solely into Squad, as I am looking to turn something small into something insanely big in the future – that sounds extremely wrong, but you know what I mean. I am serious about this, and I want to make money just like everyone else, but apart from many others, I know what it takes; living off a small wage for the first couple months, because you just simply can not afford paying for your own salary. Give me a chance, I will not let you down.

I would ultimately like to contribute to our group, as well as learn from each and all the specific individuals whom are selected to be in the group, as ultimately a group is a learning experience.

Also taking a ethical hacking course this year so ye.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before? Yes plenty of times

Past work: Not including blackhat shit like i stated. But offshorehostingspace.org is a company of mine, have another project opening within the next few weeks, and quite possibly another one in june. I make money numerous ways on the internet, and it's one of my main sources of income other than real life. I'd happily tell Divine what project i might be doing irl too but we'll see.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot? Because money is what i live for, honestly all i do everyday is make money, spend money, think about money, it's honestly the only thing in my life that i care so much about other than my parents etc. I'd bring all of my skills to this group, start projects with others, do everything we can to get paper fam.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad? Yes, 100 fucking percent, I would do anything for The Squad.

(Re - Applying because my last application was shit because i was really busy with my company considering our domain got blacklisted, had to do a lot to try get it back + get the new one and transfer anything)

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

Several times, My IRL job is working with a Digital Marketing Agency/Firm which is essentially a group co-operating environment.

Past work: This can include everything from white-hat to black-hat.

All my work is done for the company i work for, I'll be happy to provide examples Via Personal Message.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

I'm dedicated, honest and hard-working. My application may not be as detailed or as graphic as people above me but I'm simple and easy to work with. I have plenty of time throughout my day to work on things, I'm easy to contact, I've got funds to invest in projects and I'm always up for a laugh.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?

I understand completely.

Thanks for reading.

Skill-set:

I have the basics (because I don't qualify myself as "skilled") in few programming languages such as:

- C
- C++
- C#
- Javascript
- PHP
- HTML
- CSS

I like to create my own algorithms, from simple to "complex"

I freaking love automatisations, because I'm a lazy fuck (let's be honest we all are), I'd spend days making a script/macro to make a task easier

Also some skills with design related things:

- Animations in Adobe After Effect (like those separators I animated) I've been really active in the free graphic section to get better with that software lately
- Video montage
- Global Designing with photoshop

I guess I'm good at finding ideas too, creativity is one of my qualities, this is why I'm trying to be as good as possible with coding to transform my ideas into actual projects

CPA is slowly being my main interest because of the limitless earnings, I'm getting pretty good at it

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

Yes in a special school with "Peer To Peer Learning", no teachers, the students are their own teachers (like everyone helps everyone and we're one single big brain)

Past work:

I've always been really active on the internet for the past .. 19 years .. and have done many different things, I guess I'm "polyvalent"

But here are the things that might be interesting:

- Stealing accounts in MMO (keyloggers, RAT, stealers)
- Botting in MMO
- Community Manager

Also I've collected alot of android victims once (a 5 digit number) during only few months, but I couldn't find a decent rat to monetize it

Right now I'm still botting in MMO, and trying to make some decent earnings from CPA (which is going pretty well so far)

I don't qualify the rest as "work", I've been doing too many different things

I'm trying to stay as much white hat as possible, depending of the risks

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

I like the idea of sharing ideas and knowledge, like, to make everyone reach their goal
I can bring my knowledge to this group, because we'll be growing together!
Let me spread my wings!

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?

Does that mean I won't have time to masturbate anymore
I mean yes, I do

It's not about being better, it's about collaborating with a team and getting a job done. Me joining Squad, I think I can find a useful set of partners/friends, and we can actively work to get projects completed. I've always enjoyed working with people, it gets work done faster (Most of the time) , and it also gives you a fun experience.

Indeed I do

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

I have. I have worked in many project groups, including projects here on HackForums. I prefer to work in groups. I find there is often times power in numbers as long as the people apart of the project believe the same.

I have also worked under management/leadership in real-life career situations. Working as a team is not an unfamiliar idea to me at all.

Past work [on HF]:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5106771>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5126183> (I was the main Customer Support person for NetStresser for a bit)

Past work [off HF]:- I've personally owned my own BlackHat forum, twice. The first time peaking a little over 4k registered and active members. I also have ran multiple game servers. I have worked in multiple call-center environments in real life including American Cellular Company' Customer Service call-center, an American Cable Company's Technical Support/Sales call-center, and Dell's Sales/Sales Support call-center.

I am also currently working on starting my own legal Medical Marijuana grow-op. I am already a registered caregiver in my state and am able to take on patients, I am just waiting on the approval of my lease on a greenhouse not far from my home.

Why do you think you'd be better to fill out this spot?

I think that my extreme amount of experience and my ability to be professional in the appropriate situations is a rare thing to come by as a pair. Often times people are able to have the experience, but don't fit the criteria in which you're looking. I am a businessman. I credit myself entirely on this fact.

Do you understand that you'll need to be completely dedicated to the Squad?

Yes, I 100% understand that I will need to be dedicated to the Squad and remain dedicated to the Squad. I couldn't be happier to do so.

Have you worked in a group co-operating environment before?

Yes. I work as a team on a daily basis at my work, it's very team oriented with a lot of organization implemented so no one gets confused if they're just coming into work, so we don't misplace their machine, etc. I don't want to give too many details, but if you're interested, shoot me a PM and i'll be happy to answer it. :)

I'm a part time worker at a college/uni and my bosses will give me the keys and alarm code in case they can't make it in on time. Last time I'll said this I swear, haha, but if you want to talk on skype or something I'm willing to discuss this in more detail. Some of these questions are just kinda sketchy for me to answer.

Please ignore the RKO.. I was at about 250 and I got trolled by another member. Nonetheless, you can ask almost anyone and they'll vouch for me.
