People will try anything and it's getting more common every day. They will fake any type of proof to scam you.

OLOY - March 20, 2016, 5:22 am

Lol! That guy is Danish judging from his PayPal name :p

Biker BoyZ - March 20, 2016, 5:22 am

This happened for me when i tried to sell my CS:GO items. He had his name as "PayPal" and I traded knife but i did not click on it to see. it was a invoice lol. Back in 2012 ish tho. Very common.

Fintastic - March 20, 2016, 5:37 am

Most common way to scam stupid ppl (including me) was to send a request of money to somebody.

emem - March 20, 2016, 5:40 am

Yep.

thebignasty - March 24, 2016, 4:17 am

Danish morons are the worst fucking scumbags you can meet on internet. They are actually worse compared to all timewasters.

Those "SMART" cock suckers and dick heads always try to cheat like they send have proofs or even try to charge-back family and friends.

They also have some pretty ridiculous requirements to prove you are real and on top of that want you talk them for ages.

Send those scumbags a turkish gay picture and block them.
