Maybe because of the song? Maybe Isis use it as propaganda music.

Verizur - March 18, 2016, 10:09 am

This happens all the time and it's annoying as fuck that they don't even give you a reason for it.

J. McCarthy - March 18, 2016, 10:12 am

Democracy? This is not a fully democratic forum, staff makes the decisions.
Please don't involve politics in this.

This is not an entirely democratic forum. Period. Staff make decisions and those are generally final.

OK, I am Arabic, and Christian aswell.
I just looked up your thread, I don't hear anything wrong, this is just simple Muslim prayer. No hate message, IS or any propaganda.

Exactly my friend, You can read the translation nothing wrong .
Respect

(Mar 18, 2016 10:18 AM)- Sam - Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Stop overreacting. Without Staff this forum would most likely turn to shit due to the amount of shit posters and spam.
I can give you several reasons to why your thread was closed, one being due to the encouragement of troll posts, such as joking about ISIS and other similar topics.
May of been closed by mistake, go message a Staff member instead of making a public thread.
I totally agree with you, I know Staff doing their best to keep this community a good place but that's not a Spam post\Shitty post .

I only asked for a reason and i don't think it's against the community rules, Posting this in public in the right place is not wrong, is it ?

This is not a democracy, its a business.

Staff need to give no reason for closing or junking threads. Just deal with it.

It's not our choice about what stays and what doesn't dude. Omni is open to suggestion (rules follow what can/can't be suggested).

Not sure why you threw out the "Democracy in the forum" statement considering we are in no positions to make demands.

Go ahead an upgrade, but you still cant re-open threads closed by staff. ?

Omniscient - March 18, 2016, 6:21 pm

Staff made the decision to close it. They are not obligated to provide you a reason. But I will say your thread wasn't junked and at least you were able to make your post.

Thank you.
