Buying a account with FFXIV isn't good because you will not be able to play it on any other account and you cant play it on that account because it's been activated to a ffxiv account which you wont have access to... Just giving everyone a warning when buying accounts with ffxiv, you'll be wasting time and it's best to buy it yourself and FFXIV is a subscription based game.

Im not sales trashing just giving a warning to those who wanna try and buy FFXIV cheap when the game has already been registered on that account and you'll need the ffxiv account to get on and you can play it on any other account or you'll just get a black screen if trying to play on a different account.

This guy is absolutely amazing! I have bought two accounts and both were STACKED with the newest game releases! He was very informative and cared to explain everything to me thoroughly before I bought the first account and he was the only seller that did that! All others I have contacted had this shit attitude like: "either buy or get the fuck away".. But not Killzz! In fact I'm impressed at how he tolerated my noobish questions lol!

Thanks guy and A MASSIVE BIG VOUCH FOR HIM!
