Hi,

It's so obvious that this is scripted. It is so painful and cheesy to watch it

Makes me wonder how much of this is true.

They make it sound like he was attacking the country and trying to change it.

Just more reasons to not go to North Korea. I'd probably be arrested the moment I land.

A political poster? I seriously doubt that.

Makes you wonder what happened backstage.

It is obvious I agree OP. it is ALL propaganda, and who can blame them.

They managed to capture someone from their most hated country and if they can force him to do something that makes America seem weak they are going to take it.

They send their own people to work in Siberia ffs.

His sole presence in North Korea was risky and he had to be an idiot not to know this. I don't even feel bad for this guy.

I mean yes but you still have to feel bad for this guy.

15 years of hard work and labor? This guy is done.
