That name is a little questionable dude.

Serendity - March 19, 2016, 10:32 pm

Not gonna be that prick, im not sure if you own any of this but the userbars are from demonforums, the upgrade was a ripped page that i posted a while back on leak not sure if you got it from that or something else, and lastly the theme is from uberforums and that logo needs work. That was only on first glance. Im not sure if anything is temporary but needs more money or work put into it for custom pages and a theme if you want to get anywhere.

Yeah i was just pointing it out. You may wanna just work on some shit like the theme and either make it your own or make/get a total new one. Up to you just saying you wont grow with that theme.

b?xxy - March 19, 2016, 10:36 pm

Have to agree on this :)
Good luck with forum mate, you should try a white colored theme

Fynn - March 19, 2016, 10:42 pm

Is this a white gentlemen's club or a white hat security forum?

9/11 - March 19, 2016, 10:45 pm

Why call it white forums if it's all blue?

I made the theme you are using, if you don't mind me asking why are you using a theme I made but was ripped?

R?gicide - March 20, 2016, 10:50 am

Honestly I laughed my ass off. The name.. the color.. even though the name states different.

But, I wish you the best of luck OP. As long as the title of a ban isn't listed as "Lynched" It's all good.

Suspense - March 20, 2016, 10:52 am

The forum looks boring IMO. It's extremely basic, and I can't see much of a unique selling point to it.

Also, as others have mentioned, the name isn't exactly... I don't know... suitable?

You realise that absolutely nothing on demonforums is original right? like, everything on that shithole was stolen from elsewhere.

- Friendly & Active Staff: lie
You have zero staff members

- Earn Awards: lie
You have just 2 silly awards

Also, the majority of your users are either spambots or self-made bots

It's a failure with a ripped theme to top it off to be honest. People should stop setting up forums if there's no truly dedicated administrator with a decent niche.
