Thread: Deposit for Lambo

Pain - March 23, 2016, 4:28 pm

Just counting some cash I made probably going to save up for a Lamborghini, this on the table is about 20k and there are also checks at the side of about 30k.

Will update when I get the lambo.

Edit: Since many people are not reading the whole thread, I used it towards college. Starting the investment up soon again.

theDuke - March 23, 2016, 4:36 pm

If you don't have a stable income don't bother purchasing one

Faded Alien - March 23, 2016, 4:36 pm

What a weird deposit.. One wouldn't walk into a dealership and throw $20,000 in cash on the table along with almost $30,000 in checks.

You also said you made this amount in about a month. If that's true I'm sure you didn't start at this kind of revenue /m so with a return like you're getting I don't see why you're making less than a $60,000 deposit on a Lamborghini.

So if you've gotten around $30,000 in CHECKS alone over the timespan of 1 month why haven't you been able to cash any of them yet? It only takes until midnight for checks to clear in the bank.

"Just a new method right now" - this is not something someone making $50,000/month says. People making this figure a month are your doctors, lawyers, big time stock brokers... etc.

Not really, I know a lot of people who own businesses and sit on checks and wait to cash them for months at a time. My uncle would have $30-90,000 in checks just sitting there from december on his coffee table when I would go to visit and I would be like.....damn.

How could you invest in the real estate market if you're under 18 years old? You're lying.

So you're telling me you won't deposit your checks because it'll seem suspicious? Doesn't matter. As long as you're getting the money legally you shouldn't have to worry about how much you're depositing.

I mean, no one is bombarding you, you're just saying you've earned it somehow and have no proof to claim that you actually earned it via real estate. I mean, it's nice that you have 50k, but you definitely can't afford to pay for the car or to keep it insured, OR even any type of maintenance that the car requires. Think about investing in something else and making more.

I'm not accusing you of anything but you're way too defensive for someone who just made $50K in a month, why would you even feel the need to prove it? Smart people don't give a shit and you need to have quite a brain to actually make that yourself. Also thinking about buying a car you can't afford yet and you probably won't be able to pay maintenance and insurance in a couple of months which is a very dumb idea and makes you seem much less believable as to if you do actually earn cash. Lastly, asking someone online if you'd either re-invest $50k or spend it on a car... I think someone who'd earn that number doing some kind of real estate, which is a form of investing wouldn't need to ask that question.

Not calling you out but looking at it rationally I do understand why people would call bs on this.

Don't mind what the members say, I wish that I was able to make $50k in 1 month of working.

I don't care if you sold eBooks, baby clothes or if you are partially in real estate, all that I care about is that you got $50,000 more than last month!

THAT is what counts and you should only focus at THAT fact!

Don't matter if you proofed yourself or not, there will always be someone who doubt if you really got it.

Try to make each month the same amount as you got now and you won't care about anybody opinions (when getting "boardbombed") in a matter of time!

 - Which version of the Huracan?
 - From a Lambo dealer, other dealer, or from a private seller?
 - Will it be your DD?
- Huracan Spyder, Probably a lambo dealer. What do you mean by DD?

I didn't buy a lambo with my cash though it went towards college still debating as if I should wait after college

1. DD meaning daily driver
2. Spyder is the way to go (convertables look nice on that car)
3. If you're making bank, get it know haha. Baller AF in college, sets networks. Also it wouldn't depreciate as much as the successor of the Huracan may drop in the coming years. The Huracan was released in 2014, it's already been 2 years. If you wait another 2+ years, you might as well be buying a gallardo now (compared to a Huracan then).

Yeah I will probably drive it daily lol, I want to move to a better neighborhood before getting it in a few years hopefully! Yeah they are amazing. The insurance is crazy briandeutsch - October 30, 2016, 8:25 am

You should wait untill after school

HIGH PAID FELLA - October 30, 2016, 12:58 pm

You're in school and want to buy a super car? I would definetly not do that, if I was standing in your position I would buy a very nice Mercedes, CLA or C63 AMG and invest the rest and stack up to a million. As you said, you don't know if your method will guarantee you a stable income so better to invest it in something else in case shit goes west.

Nasal - October 30, 2016, 12:59 pm

Good job man, keep it up! Stay grinding homie.

reBELLYus - October 30, 2016, 1:01 pm

You do not have enough money to afford a Lambo. You can barely speak proper English. Let alone purchase a supercar. Enough with trying to flex on randoms. It is not cool.

People with that much cash do not beg for xfinity accounts.

Now I do not as it is all going towards college, if you didn't read the thread is months old and I am restarting the method?

My English? I believe it is perfectly fine, maybe it is your insecurity blurring up your eyes.
Not trying to flex, I mean this is the "Bragging Rights" section.
Referring to that thread I posting in BUYERS BAY. Which is where you buy stuff, I am not begging at all.
In conclusion, you should take a rest?

When I ask you to post a pic of your car, you say you don't have one. ? Keep riding your bike to work. ?

it's okay guys we can all mutually agree that none of us are completely truthful about our wealth

Nice going off-topic, but hey, I don't feel like I owe you proof I'm doing good. All you do is being envious and I rather don't waste my time with such kind of people. Remember when you junked all your posts because you couldn't keep up?

love you too ?

Lmfao I am not sure what to say anymore this hilarious.

Just because I am selling an account for $10, it doesn't mean anything. It just means I am trying to make money. I am not rich to wipe my ass with dollar bills. If your parents taught you anything, every dollar counts.

Just keep grinding man. Once they see you at the top, they are all going to be kissing ass... Glad to see you reevaluated your decision. I think paying for college is the more wise choice for you right now just because it will open new doors for you. Keep setting goals for yourself though, will keep you motivated to keep grinding. Hope the best for you man.

Tbh man I'd go with a Tesla instead. Nice work though.

b?xxy - October 30, 2016, 11:25 pm

I personally wouldn't drive a Lamborghini unless I could easily afford it.

You have to think of things like maintenance, insurance, etc.

I'll buy that lambo off of you once you can't afford the maintenance anymore OP.

Keep me in mind please.

Aqzxc - October 31, 2016, 8:39 pm

Invest it all into a compound interest bank account, don't touch it for a few years and you'll have the money plus some. It's how some people get rich from doing nothing.
