Right what you do next time is smack the bitch up... You grab his hair and lay him on floor and take a shit in his face.

On serious note shout back because then he thinks he's a bigger man when he clearly isn't just show him who is the boss and shout back at his face.

Don't trip, its all good you will find some eles, he said that bs because he feels like you do now. He just wanted to get back at you. Try getting drunk it will help for now, untill you realize im right.

What does being gay have to do with this situation? The advice you'd give a girl about breaking up with her boyfriend, is the same advice you can give a guy who broke up with his boyfriend. ???

Step 1: Remain calm and know it's not your fault.

Step 2: Over the next few days he will harass the shit out of you so be prepared.

Step 3: This is where it gets tricky. I want you to ignore him for a good week or so.

Step 4: After said time has passed call him up and ask him to meet at the park after hours.

Step 5: When you both meet up at the park make sure to have some sort of blunt weapon on you.

Step 6: Say Hey (name here) lets go on the play structure and talk.

Step 7: Once at the highest point of the structure Smash him in the back of the skull with said blunt weapon.

Step 8: Toss his body off the structure and scream HELPPP!!!!!! OMG!!!! NO!!!! HE WASN'T READY!!!!

Step 9: Call the police and inform them he fell off the structure during a heated argument. (leave nothing out not to raise suspicion)

Step 10: Get away with murder.

Well you should know the only reason for him saying this stuff was you breaking up with him. He acted like a dick because you left him -- so definitely don't take any of that to heart. Move on proud you broke up with him, I mean why think on reconsidering (not saying that you are necessarily) being with someone who just made you feel worthless?
