Nice job man, making small little projects is a great way to learn! You should post source code as well & maybe you could get some critique.

I know people on HF and they do not trust .exe files.

I'm hoping to get some constructive criticism, thanks.

I appreciate your post.

Nice job man.

But why didn't you put the Load page & start refresher in one button like I said. :(Nice release.

I didn't put both together because I need to log into forums when I do this. Others may need to as well.

If there is any. I didn't even think to release this. Hopefully, I'm in need of more basic shit like this and it comes to me making it.

Seems like a nice little tool.

You gotta start somewhere right?

You sure do.

Like I mentioned, I wasn't planning on releasing this until I thought that there must be someone who could benefit from this.

Thanks for the kind words.

I'm just hoping I can come across some ideas I can build from.

Hexalogy - March 28, 2016, 9:21 pm

I can vouch for this user he releases a LOT of HQ products.

aphotic - March 28, 2016, 10:19 pm

Good job on this. Although, I will point out there are plugins for all the major browsers that do this as well.

Grammar Rays - March 28, 2016, 10:21 pm

Wonder how many people are going to bot HF online time. Nerds.

That keep track of time ran and how many refreshes it does? Lol, I already knew this.

You do not need to point it out.

Meh, there isn't really any sort of benefit you can gain from having a really high online time... Oh, wait, you get a bigger dick.. OF COURSE.

hi friend

this is a good product ;;good job friend and i will be happy to test it?

DProdigy - November 13, 2016, 7:20 pm

That's pretty cool, as first comment said.
Small projects are the way to go bigger.

So what's your definition of 'small'?

Let's stop calling it that now, it's starting to attack my brain.

Thanks nonetheless.
