Thread: BlazinHosting / Services not rendered / Refusal to refund / \$90 USD

Armada - March 28, 2016, 6:42 am

So Mar 17th I purchased 1 year premium web hosting from BlazinHosting offered by Blazin

By the next day, having gotten no login information or acknowledgment of payment. I opened a ticket requesting an update on the service activation.

Followed below is the transcript.

Spoiler (Click to View)

(Latest to Oldest)

Things to note:Blazin was given a full week of paid services, which were not rendered.

The requested refund was done within the advertised 7 day money back guarantee.

Money back implied a full refund, NOT credit.

I am simply asking they honor what was advertised on their own website as it fell well within the time line. Further to this the hosts inability to provide a service those days the services were NOT rendered or otherwise inaccessible should not be counted against the refund period whatsoever.

OrgX - March 28, 2016, 7:59 am

This seems like a valid dispute, i really hope you'll get your money back :)

Good luck

BITCHLESS - March 28, 2016, 8:07 am

You pay via PayPal or BTC?

BTC, not that payment method should have any impact on a refund.

Purple Kief - March 28, 2016, 9:58 am

Seems like a legit dispute, owner needs to sort his shit out.

Himitsu - March 28, 2016, 12:49 pm

He is known to not give a fuck about customers. I think there was a case where a customer thought that blazin makes backups but they blazin said that every customer needs to manually backup and stuff. Sad to see that people just don't give a shit about their customers.

forskin - March 28, 2016, 1:04 pm

Would like to see what Blazin has to say. Looks like a valid dispute. Feel sorry that you're getting dicked around Armada.

Blazin - March 28, 2016, 1:06 pm

The dispute is not even valid 7 DAY money back, can you not count OP? So why didnt you open the dispute on the first week? Hmmm? Sketchy, and nobody here is going to trust you.

Would of been willing to refund but not now. OP is childish spamming me on a holiday with a deal dispute etc and going on my threads.

I'll let the people decide. Happy Easter everyone.

But he ordered the hosting on the 17th, and requested a refund on the 24th? The 24 would have marked day 7, so it would have been within the 7 days.

This is literally the same way you answered when another member asked for a refund lol.

@OP sorry for getting into this

I've refunded many members on here. Members that PM me and handle things professionally. He was over the 7 days + spamming our threads IS a violation of our t.o.s. I'm done here. my work is done.

Yes, but that gets your hosting a bad reputation when you say things like that. You always need to be cool.

forskin - March 28, 2016, 1:22 pm

Handled professionally or not, he (Armada) asked for a refund on the 7th day and was refused. How would you (Blazin) expect him to react if you can't even fulfil your own 7 day refund guarantee. Man up and refund him, stop acting like a little child. So what if he posted on your thread, you kicked him around first, take responsibility.

Sevn Alias - March 28, 2016, 1:24 pm

Damm, sorry for your loss man. If you want i will refund you the $90 tomorrow.

I never "spammed" your thread, I made a singular post after your ticketing system (which users are told to use) failed.

Lets talk about being professional here for a moment.

I tried to just reply to your PM in an amiable and professional understanding manner only to be told you have placed me on your ignore list.

Or better yet, how about my request for a refund to be considered BLACKMAIL?

How is requesting a refund and advising that a deal dispute is being opened - Until this is resolved blackmail?

You are being nothing more than a petty thief and scammer at this point.

Zeno Sama - March 28, 2016, 1:37 pm

IDK why u pep buy hosting from Blazin bought once more downtime then up and slow asf he said that it got DDoS protection but its not true can DDoS with a free stresser.

Armada - March 28, 2016, 1:52 pm

Update:

My control panel no longer logs in, am unable to respond to the support ticket.

Blazin has effectively taken my 2nd web hosting package hostage.

Tack on another 9months of already paid for services to this dispute.

Was pretty dumb to say that IMO. This should serve to show the type of "Professional" being dealt with here however.

Anyone else who was scammed by Blazin, I would appreciate a PM to discuss the matter. I will be escalating this further if he chooses to continue this.

And the best part. He claims I violated the TOS.

Mr. Meeseeks - March 28, 2016, 4:24 pm

Sigh, even if the refund doesn't fall in the maximum amount of days for your TOS, YOUR PRODUCT DOES NOT WORK.

No one should give a fuck at that point; if you don't deliver your product and expect to keep the money you should fuck off.

ra1d - March 28, 2016, 4:38 pm

Honestly anyone buying from BlazinHosting is just asking to get fucked.

I feel bad for you OP, and wish I could've informed you before you put money in to this shitty service.

Also opened a Deal Dispute over this.

Armada - March 29, 2016, 9:17 am

Still no explanation as to how I violated the Terms of Service. Doubt I will be getting one either.

Blazin - March 30, 2016, 10:38 am

As for the armada issue.

Armada would of got a refund provided he hadn't of violated our t.o.s. The first thing he did to violate it was harass us. On a holiday with scam report and spamming our HF thread before even contacting me. The second way he violated the t.o.s was acting abusive in the tickets. And the last thing he did was he got another member to both spam my sales thread. Anyone knows you pm me in a serious matter & you get a refund. No questions asked. You don't pm me with scam reports and stuff and not even give me us a chance to respond that is childish. His services WERE rendered both of them, and he did not contact me for a refund before the 7 days. Our T.O.S IS valid and I thank Omni for backing that up.

ABSOLUTE BULL.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5218307>

"Harassing"

After I was CLEARLY denied a refund, only THEN was the dispute filed.

Secondly, nowhere was I abusive, anywhere in the tickets. Was I abusive asking for the login details? How about asking about the server down time?
Or was it abusive when I KINDLY asked for a refund?

You are straight out making absolute crap up. I was nothing but patient and considerate the entire time when dealing through the ticket.

Refund my money scammer.
[/quote]

Claiming this bull shit does NOT make it true.

So let's settle this, show the proof where I was harassing, abusive, blackmailing.
Go on, do it. The entire ticket transcript is in the OP post, QUOTE IT.
