?etasploit - March 28, 2016, 3:39 pm

Quote:Hackers crippled computer systems Monday at a major hospital chain, MedStar Health Inc., forcing records systems offline for thousands of patients and doctors. The FBI said it was investigating whether the unknown hackers demanded a ransom to restore systems.

MedStar operates 10 hospitals. RIP. Hospitals seem to be an easy target lately. Maybe a wake up call to get rid of all that legacy garbage!

I heard about this when it happened. The people who hacked this hospital must've caused a few deaths at least. Cold hearted if you ask me.
