You can try to start a reselling business.

You buy cheap and you sell high. You just have to know what customers demand.

CPA can be good if you put in the time and effort. Set up multiple niches, if a few of them become successful, even if one or two of them die, you'll still be getting "stable income" from the other niches.

As for a good niche + method, that's up to you to find. Read some stuff on the basics and just trial and error. Most important thing is to not give up

Something I find can make you a couple hundred dollars,
Is getting Instagram accounts up to around 10-15k,
make them look legitimate, (if your using bots)
sell them for about $100.

Good luck!
