Wanna Make $10 per website tested?

>>LINK<<

UserTesting pays $10 a pop for testing websites. A test usually takes about 15-20 minutes. The purpose is for a website owner to watch someone, who is new to their site, try to navigate it. The value that the site owner gets by watching an actual user experience is worth a ton, but $10 isn't a bad pay-out.

Hope this helps you guys out.

Enjoy. :)

Do you have proof of payout? I've tried like 3 different sites and non of them payout.

here.

He's personally asking you though?

Have you earned?

All I see is controversial videos whether it's a scam or legit.

I do not have proof but this site is legit, If you'd like to try it sign up, I was only showing people this if they would like to try it.

Honestly you should only share shit you know has value.

It will actually benefit the community and not just your post count.

yes, because my post count affects my real life... (idc about that) thank you for the reply but please see that I did some research before posting... I apologize for the useless thread.... was only trying to give people ideas and different things to experiment with.... it's free.
