Thread: MY 2.5 YRS FEEDBACK THREAD || 1,573 POSTS || 236 REPS

Joy - March 31, 2016, 4:40 am

I am sorry if this thread offended anyone.

27th March marked the day i had been here for 2.5 years. I had a really great time being here learning new things. HF has truly changed my life a lot. I was here for the first time looking for game hack and eventually i saw the marketplace and the other sections that attracted me and made me stay. I was banned once for multi-accounting and that was the worst decision of my life and my accounts were banned for a long time and I was made to use this account, but after that incident I don't think I have ever received a warning. I had made some friends while being here and one of them being TheyCallMeNeon. Thank You Omni for making this wonderful site. I hope you will read this.

These are what I think of the sections in here-

Feedback threads are so cancer

"I was banned once for multi-accounting and that was the worst decision of my life"

"banned for multi-accounting and that was the worst decision of my life"

"banned was the worst decision of my life"

"the worst decision of my life"

Sounds like a great life when the worst thing of it was getting banned on an online forum site lol

Lrrr - March 31, 2016, 7:08 pm

This feedback thread is sloppy, not at all thought out, and down right lazy.

You know why you made it and you know why I changed my mind about you.
