"I'll call it 'Return by Death'" (I'd barely call this a spoiler btw)

I was actually thinking that he would call his ability "Revival" (Erased reference)

Lyrlei - April 13, 2016, 9:51 am reading the In of this, glad it became an anime. +has more than 12 eps.

CorrosiveBlueberry - April 13, 2016, 9:57 am

Was pessimistic about watching it at first because every season now their just throwing out RPG or MMORPG like anime. Some are good but some just are generic or plain. Pretty glad I decided to pick this one up though it's nice. Feels like fantasy/RPG mixed with erased's revival. Also some comedic factors such as his "starting items" lmao shit like that is good

Many people think that an anime is going to be generic just cause it has some points from another anime.....

This one has too many similarities like parallel world, revival..etc.....but plot is played out nicely in a subtle manner.

Lone - April 14, 2016, 3:18 am

Yeah MMORPG Anime are super popular right now, this is the only one I have liked so far apart from S1 of SAO that I watched a long time ago.

Anyways I decided to write and explain what I understood of the last episode in the spoiler, check it out and it should clear any questions you might have about it ;)

I'll try to make it short

Spoiler (Click to View) Subaru finds out that Rem is the killer, he tries to run away but she ends up torturing and killing him, she did this because he smelled like the witch(who apparently hurt her sister Ram in the past), Rem kills Subaru and then Subaru goes back in time once again. He spends quite some time in his room and Beatrice approaches him and notices that he reeks like the witch. After that its the whole thing where they make a contract and shit.

She protects him by hiding him in her library throughout the night, Subaru survives the 4th night but he soon finds out that Rem was killed by the same way he died the 1st time, which means that Rem was not the only killer, and that the 1st time he died in the mansion was because of the shaman that now killed Rem.

There's the rest of all that stuff of them talking and Subaru running away, and then he tries to kill himself but can't do it, and then when Ram finds him with Beatrice he finds his new purpose and knows what he has to do now and he decides to kill himself so he can restart(aka go back in time).

Oh yeah! And this episode also showed that each time Subaru dies his smell(smelling like the witch) gets stronger and stronger. Which is probably why he only gets killed by Rem in the 2nd night. Or at least this is what I understood.

darknessblade - May 21, 2016, 1:40 pm

Spoiler (Click to View)

he has somewhat the same power as KIRIE from UQ holder (except for the fact that he does not know how to set his own save-point) as for the smell, emilia is connected to the witch satela (might be a alternative personality) (puck might know something about his power, since he did not question why subaru know his name even when they never met in that [redo])

They hired a new writer (or something like that) from episode 14 and so forth, and you can tell right off the bat. Episode 15 was the best episode I've ever watched in an anime this summer. It was beautiful.

I thought it was the end and he was going to go through an endless loop with his revival by death, but I figured out its a 25 episode anime. Would've been an edgy af ending though.

This series has been awesome so far but in the last few episodes it has got really dark :S

I really feel for Subaru as a character though and I can't help but wonder where the plot will go and what he will do to overcome these huge barriers in front of him...

Elweth - July 11, 2016, 8:52 am

The recent episode has left me speechless at the end. When I thought those crazy cliffhanger endings at the start of the anime was brutal enough, I was so wrong. Now I understand why the light novel readers are warning me that it will be a dark anime.

I am glad to say I'm not disappointed, and the recent episode is a masterpiece in terms of its editing, voice acting and animation. Looks like we're in for more madness.

I'm still wondering why she even called herself Satella in the first place. Yes, I know Subaru already came to the conclusion that she wanted to seem "crazy" or whatever because nobody dare calls themselves the witches name unless they have a death wish (as stated by Beatrice).

However, I really don't think that is the case. There's more to it than that IMO.

Yeah; Horrible Subs usually has them out 10:35am PDT (LA Time) Sunday

Which for me in Australia is around 3:35am Monday (Melbourne Time)

So yeah; Sunday morning for all of you in the US! May be a little later on depending on time zones; will be like 1:35 for those in New York, etc.

There is sometimes a little variation in the hours due to time spent translating, but that is the general estimate - they try to get it out asap and if they realize they did a shitty job with translating then they will release a second version of the episode usually like the next day or even the same day.

Must be tough when you can't even tell those people you love what's wrong - make you seem untrustworthy no matter how honest your intentions are.

He should totally just commit everytime something goes wrong though. If he fails just start over, as Rem to give him a quick death.

I agree with this but think about it a minute.. Would you be able to that in his situation? As we've already seen, he really is afraid to die. What if the next time he dies he doesn't start over? But yea he is one fucked up kid after all what he's been through...

Tru tru tru, you have a point. Poor guy... I hope I get some answers before the last episode of the anime; like why was he summoned to the parallel universe and whats the deal with his power from the jealous witch? One can only hope I guess.

Would it be possible for him to just turn into the witch? He already has a dark power. What if there is no witch, and the witch is actually Subaru evolved when he dies too many times?

Obviously not. The witch is a (if she looks anything like Emilia) hot girl as well as a half elf. Subaru happens to lack all these qualities.

About the last episode.

Spoiler (Click to View)

Pretty much that episode had very little progress since Subaru is about to die and start over again but it did reveal some notable information.

- Whoever the white whale kills is forgotten from existence
(Something interesting is that Otto said the white whale killed the Master Swordsman but since the Master Swordsman isn't forgotten we can assume he is alive and may play a part somewhere, maybe if they continue past 25 episodes.)
- When Subaru told Emilia his secret she died instead of him. Might have something with him wanting to die instead of him normally not wanting to.
- The daggers probably mean Otto was killed by the witch cultists (xD Otto saved Subaru by trying to kill him and save himself, irony sweet irony.)
- Subaru could see Sloth's hands this time, why!?
- Puck WAS the giant monster thing that froze everyone.
- Fking Rem dies. Only girl in there who's not a bitch, why!?!?!?!?!?

St0rm - July 24, 2016, 3:55 pm

Even if you know you'll come back, your body is still biologically wired to not want to kill yourself. It's a survival instinct that makes it hard for Subaru to just off himself whenever things get bad.

My personal opinion about this anime. ?

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

I like this anime love the story like I said in my earlier post

This isn't an anime I would suggest right now...

This is the kind of anime you should bench watch from episode one to the final.

The Sometimes heavy mental breakdowns from the MC definitely influence my overall opinion at this moment..

This is more or less the writers fault cause this MC is lacking in well almost everything still I feel with him every step he takes.

He doesn't want to lose his "loved" ones see them die again and again and again...

This is probably because he isn't viewing his "ability" as a blessing but as a curse (cause it is a curse...)
prob. why he didn't call it revive/revival...

The writer took a different road from the happy revival "oH.. i'm dead well lets try again type of stories...".

A daring approach let's see how this turns out.

The healing episode worked out pretty well...

Depending on the ending this could be my personal AOTS
Current score 7.5-8 ?

That episode felt like it was the last. Like I've never seen an episode do that and not be the last lol.

Anyway fuck him. Rems hotter and she has that devil stamina. He's missing out.

Professor Pantsu - August 3, 2016, 9:11 pm

I've heard a light novel fag say that everything before this was pretty much a prologue and everything gets way better after this, but with only a few more episodes left I doubt it.

On the topic of Subaru. He's a god damn neet, what makes you think he should be some super cool awesome hero right from the get go? Of course he's going to be pathetic, that was apparent from before he even entered the new world. Even with respawn abilities death still hurts and you're brain is hardwired to fear it more than anything. Expecting Subaru to not be a pathetic loser is like being bad at Shinji for not being a typical mecha hero.

There are still 7 more episodes to go in this series, so I'm hoping that guy is right. That's plenty of time for epic stuff to happen

Just waiting for episode 19, episode 18 was odd for me. I usually hate when characters just stand there and have a talkfest but it's not that bad the way the author did it. I'd personally rate the episode 7.5/10.

I think the anime is following some sort of pattern with the 7 deadly sins (Pride. Envy. Wrath, Gluttony and Lust. Sloth and Greed). I'm not to sure about all of it exactly, but here's something to maybe think about?

Pride - Subaru

Wrath - Puck

Gluttony - White Whale

Sloth - Betelgeuse

Anyone got any ideas for other ones?

It is indeed based around 7 deadly sins but honestly no way puck is wrath. He's an ice spirit and has nothing to do with the witch.

As far as we know:

Spoiler (Click to View)

Greed?- Subaru (honestly he seems more greedy than prideful he wants to save everyone which is greedy since he would normally lack the ability to do so. His powers were also revealed when he had a strong want to save Emilia.)

Sloth- Betelgeuse (it seems the powers are related to the sin, he completely relies on his invisible hands for everything).

Gluttony- White Whale (fat whale that eats peoples existences)

Lord Roswaal? - might be related to the witch, seems to be plotting some way to kill a dragon, why he would do that we have no clue.

Hopefully this Anime will live up to the hype. I'm keeping it for later, as I want to keep "the best" for the end. I'll probably be watching all the other Summer Anime before watching it, and I think I'll enjoy it way more that way.

I don't think there's anything to discuss about the fact that gintama is #1.

I wonder how could you spell gintama wrong to the point that it became some kimi shit.

I think you're the one that's spelling it wrong. Kimi No Na Wa is the top grossing right now in Japan.

I loved this anime but was fucked with the only fact that after the dying and reviving process, it takes the MC 3-5 Episodes to end up one god-damn episode mystery. I wanted to have atleast 6 to 7 encounter fights, but ended up watching only 4.

The movie was superb but the hype killed it a bit fit me, hard-on on words was better in my thinking.

Finally started the serie. Only on Episode 4 and no matter what anyone will say, Emilia is best girl, and I doubt that "Ren" can do any better than her.

Well, I can see the girl portential Rem have but... still not on the level of Emilia-tan.

So... yeah, this show is way over-hyped. On Episode 15 so far and it's actually pretty bad.
