So the user Vos. has scammed multiple users and has also changed his name. I decided to try and find out why.. just saying everyone should DEAL WITH CAUTION!

Funny that you believed that.

Have a nice day.

SIM-2306826 - April 4, 2016, 1:28 pm

It's funny that you scammed other members because you're a selfless prick who hides in their mothers basement getting their fun from scamming people. Such scum.

Cryptokush - April 4, 2016, 1:30 pm

Vos. you are a fucking prick, you scammed me $120 and many others in the past. Here is my dispute for all those who want to see <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5226631> . He sent two of the same code that didn't even work. Scammers like him deserve to fucking die.

Well I guess we don't need the deal disputes section anymore

I was not scammed. I'm simply posting a community alert.

Which is the purpose of deal disputes.

While I do agree with Orgy, I also can understand why you would put this in the marketplace. Technically OP isn't disputing any deals, just a community alert.

Lets focus on what's important here, VOS appears to be a repeat scammer from the proof provided. Thank you for the alert.

SIM-2306826 - April 4, 2016, 1:47 pm

The purpose of Deal Disputes is if you got scammed, which I didn't. There wouldn't be a community alert tag here if that wasn't one of the uses of the forum.

Scriptie - April 4, 2016, 2:34 pm

To be honest, Vos is a very nice member, I do not think he would come this low, I feel this is invalid, shame.

SIM-2306826 - April 4, 2016, 2:36 pm

You feel like what is invalid? The proof is all right in front of you. Check the three threads, read the screenshots. It's not that hard to see.

The purpose of deal disputes is to alert other members of the disputes.

"Did you have a bad deal? Maybe you feel scammed or didn't get what you bargained for. Post here. HF is not responsible for any deals but this is the place to let others know. "

I did not have a bad deal, or feel that I was scammed.

Exactly so there's no need for you to make a thread at all.

yeah, exactly. he's just telling us they exist and linking to them. making a thread just to link to other threads that people could just search for is pointless af.

no one ever says "man i wish there was a thread that linked to this users deal disputes" because that's called the search function

Cryptokush - April 4, 2016, 5:42 pm

OP is an IRL friend of mine. I told him that I got fucked by this Vos guy and he made a thread to warn others not to get scammed. No need to be a dick "Orgy"
