No.

It's done through webrequests to a valid website which was made for finding skype friends. This is in no way breaking any laws.

Not thousands, but around 10-20. (very rough estimate)

They site gets a lot of traffic so you should really enlist them again every 15-20 minutes.

Make sure the skype name you're putting in there is the one you get from doing > Right click on their name > View Profile > Copy their 'Skype:'.

It really depends on the time of day you do it if you want loads of them to flood your victim. It's usually best at 3pm (UK) time for me so if you have a search for when that is your time then you should be good to go.

Nah, too much work for a guy of my caliber. I haven't encrypted it so go ahead and see what you can find. I've also had trouble with webrequests and I just asked help from experienced members and such. After awhile, I realised it's petty and they're not my little slave to help me whenever I want so I go to MSDN or whatever the fuck it's called. I just type that in with 'webrequests' and it's usually the first result.

TL;DR no

(Oct 28, 2016 09:49 AM)Motorbong Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I tried this with my old account but nothing happened.

It really depends on the time, you see. I'm sure you would have atleast 10+ requests as it never really becomes 'dead'.

Not 100, like your api skype whatever.

However, this doesn't mean I have to restock every so often, instead it uses just the indian people.

I couldn't even give you an accurate estimate, as it depends on time really.

Ah I see, yh I have to restock quite often :/ as 5-20 accounts die per day, but it's not so bad as I can always just crack some more.

Just search in google 'add skype friends' or 'dates'.

I'm not able to accurately write the URL. I could open the vb project, but I'm playing league and really can't be arsed. All updates are out and, as far as I'm aware, there is no reason for me to open it because no bugs were reported.

Same method can be used to spam almost anything! skype, phone, email etc etc.. you are amazing!

That was a time cell phones werent common and his room didnt have a phone. hahaha loads of fun

Brilliant? Yes, yes it is.

Not sure about it being used for phone numbers, but that's sure not going to work. Only enter a skype name in the program, not any digits. Maybe that'll be blocked in 5 more minutes when I make it so.. ;)

Who knows.
