Thread: [\[Official Group\] Eternal Content Creators Recruitment](#)

Errors - April 9, 2016, 10:51 am

Eternal is a growing group always looking for new types of members, currently we are in the search for content creators! If you identify as a content creator, are serious about your craft, seeking growth, people to collaborate with, and more we want you! Drop note: Apply via UserCP AFTER you post below, stating what you are involved in. We're looking for serious members and in no way shape or form are we looking for inactive users or anyone trying to join for a userbar. We are looking for (but not limiting our search to) Singers, Rappers, Producers, Song Writers, Designers, Promoters, Editors, YouTubers, Actors, storytellers, and comedians.

Seeing that we aren't interested in people that come off as "HQ" (by taking an extra 5 minutes on an application), we'd prefer seeing a body of work. Please limit to 3 sentences for each answer. Those who do a voice/video response will be more likely to be accepted due to the nature of the recruitment.

As for mixing, I'm still in the basics though have been on and off for a year or so!

What is your end game?

My end game, simply to mastery the skill of designing. I don't pride myself on money or fame, I get satisfaction from perfecting new skills.

Why are you interested in Eternal?

I have seen members of the group around the forums. I can see that the group is intelligent and has an open mind as a whole. It's a group I could see myself fitting into and being apart of.

You can check out some free signatures I created a while back for HF on my imgur, though bear in mind this was quite a while back. I don't usually post my work online or store it in a portfolio (I should probably start doing so):

The avatar of mine at the moment was also designed by myself, took me a while but definitely one of my best pieces.

Additional comments:
