Thread: Being a successful young man

'Suicide - April 11, 2016, 9:47 am

Hello HackForums,

I usually don't brag but I just feel as i need some recognition on my hard work.

Well, I am 19 (i'll be turning 20 this year.)

I am a supervisor at Ford. (Dearborn, Michigan)

I am an All A and B student at school (college)

I have no criminal record

I work and go to school full time

I have no kids (not saying kids aren't a blessing but i'm not ready)

I own 2 vehicles. A 2003 Envoy and a 2006 Yukon XL (i can take pictures if you want to see my loves)

I've given away over $1,000 to anonymous users on HF's for free. (Giveaways, people who needed it, and just for working for me)

And the most beautiful thing is that I am still living and breathing.

Thank you all for reading this lazy thread of mine!

Have a beautiful day, that's as beautiful as you!

Many charities keep most of the money that goes into donations. I used to be called of an organization called BuildOn in which i helped build 4 schools myself. I feel as i have done enough for now. Of course when i start making more bank i plan on making my own charity. Until than, I'll keep doing me.

I drink when at parties or something celebratory, other than that no.

I smoke with friends sometimes. We just chill in my backyard and lay down in the grass and smoke until one of us chokes from laughing too much.

Then we eat until we fall asleep.

And i have took some drugs due to various reasons (peer-pressure, wanted to try, or curiosity)

I am pretty clean though. I would never let drugs take over my life due to all the negative affects.

Thank you! ?

No age does not but experience does and having worked at a car dealership and having a father be a manager at two consecutively I know that any large dealership would not have a 19 year old sales manager.

Unless it's something very small, considering the cubicle, is what I considered.

Yeah I've done over 2,000 hours community service with BuildOn. I received 4 awards from them.

To be honest I did it to help them and myself. I was a kid who was always in trouble so I learned if I

That's nice. But it's always nice to have a good conscience and help those who can't help themselves, like the elderly, sick, and homeless. Donating basic necessities like personal hygiene products go a long way. Thanks and good luck to you in the future.
