Thread: [\[eWhore\] Method Review \(Direct, Semi-Direct, Long Term\)](#)

Oddissee - April 11, 2016, 1:45 pm

Enjoy this simple tutorial on which method to pick.

I've made $4,000+ from ewhoring and here's my pros and cons for each method.

Good luck earning! ? _____

Directly Selling

When direct selling, you are either send a greeting then tell them that you're selling or you just say you're selling

Pros:

- It was relatively easy, as I just needed to copy and paste

Cons:

- Really low conversion
- More proof/they're more suspicious most of the time

Comments:

~ Obviously, this is not the ideal method. It will convert eventually, MOSTLY everyone does this because they're lazy and this is why their earnings are disappointing. Would NOT reccomend.

My estimated daily earnings with this: $430 a week.

Semi-Direct

When semi-direct selling it means you find out if they have the funds and if they seem stable $ wise or generous then you sell to them. If they're not stable you'll just sell to them and if they say no or waste time you block them.

Pros:

- Probably the most efficient with the conversion rate (I normally do this)
- You can find out if they're willing to pay or not.
- You're talking with them and establish a connection so it'll increase your conversion rate.

Cons:

- A bit more time consuming

Comments:

~ This is my favorite method and 9/10 I'll do this if not I'll do the long-term method.

My estimated daily earnings with this: $800 a week.

Long-Term

When you're doing a long-term conversation with someone you NEED TO MAKE SURE they're going to pay and you talk to them for like days-weeks-months

Pros:

- Will be GREAT long-term $
- Milking x 10
- If they love you, they'll just send you $ for any little incident (phone broke, gas money, food money)

Cons:

- Wasted time if not targeting the right people.
- They may fall in love with you and you might feel bad if they do something "tragic" after you stop talking to them (It has happened)
- They may find out you're fake if you keep selling pics.

Comments:

~ Probably the best method tbh, but you NEED to do it right. You can't just long-term random people, You need to target specific people.

My estimated daily earnings with this: $1200 a week (AVERAGE)

Hope you guys enjoy this small guide on which method you should pick.

Another quality tutorial for newbies.

Very helpful info :)

Thank you very much. As I tried all of them I can say:

1. For the first method you really need to find a good traffic. Like any traffic, doesn't matter. As much as you have like +100 messages it's good. From that 100 messages there are 2-3 horny guys which will buy from you if you just tell them directly. You can even just tell them hi. Wait them to respond and after that just tell " How it's your day " or anything related. This will make them believe you are real, you give a damn about them and it will be a perfect time to tell them now what are you really doing :P Because mostly they will ask you now " What about you? ". You already said them "Hello" and asked what they are doing. They have no fears that you are a bot and they might think you're real too :P If not, the verifications are pretty easy from now.

2. Yeah, I tried to discuss with them. It works even better because you're not direct to them. You discuss a little bit and even they make a "clean chat" they just really want to get nudes from you. Doesn't matter what age they are and what are the intention (like clean chat, they just want do discuss about something..). Everyone on kik which add you (at least 99% lol) wants nudes. Now they might want for free or not. So that's why here you invest some time to gain their trust and you will kinda make them think you are real, you give a damn about them and he will think that he finds someone good for them. And maybe they will get a nude! (If you are playing it well, like make them wish to see a nude. Put in their situation!).

If you are texting like " Ok babe " or anything related (Babe, sexy, etc) they just got the idea (ok, she's getting horny, let's get in action).

If you will chat with them and find some common subjects they will be like " Ok, this girl is kinda smart, I like her. She likes what I like..I would reeeeeeally want to see her naked ". If you are in this stage, what can I say. You just got them. They don't have any fears that you are not really. If so, you can make some verifications for them :P And the best part is that you can choose! You can play with them. Don't be afraid. In this stage, they will just don't want to lose you :P

3. If you want to invest a long term relation ship I think it's profitable for someone who wants to have a..kinda clean chat. Also, talk about more things and invest some time in it. You will not discuss just about dicks, abs, how nice that guy is and so on. You will find related and common subjects. You will do your best to make them think that you are really alike them and you should be their next girlfriend. This will generate you like daily/weekly/monthly cash. You will build a online relationship which will generate you money. Bad things is that when you "broke up" with them (lol) they will feel like really bad. And I really don't like to rape their money (you really don't know how much they've worked for them) and how they will react. Anywya, you can milk them if you want (sometime) like you will need money to meet up with them and to buy a plane ticket. You will just cash in something there :P The second bad thing with this method is that if you target a time waster (so you kinda don't know what you target..) it will be a BIG BIG LOSE. You just need to have some SE to run this and to be sure that it will be a weekly income at least.

Anyway, thank you for the guide. I hope it will help the begginers. :) Would you mind to share some traffic sources too? :P

Nice post man.

I use saturated traffic sources and I earn bunches.

Hello,

I am quite new in e-whoring, i have begun 2 months ago.

I have tried this 3 methods, and the most efficient is the 2nd one semi-direct, it does not too much time and you make the guy liking you, and this is the most important in social engineering, because it will be more difficult for him to refuse to "help" you.

The 1st method is very frustrating and brings a lot of time waster who plays with you saying that they are interested, and finally don't pay, and let you wait stupidly.

About the 3rd, better to choose the right guy, it can work, i have tried but did not succeed really, when i proposed pics for money, they looked like offended that i am a kind of slut :-)
