I like to think the staff are often in bad moods because the dark background effects their psyche.

(Not because of the users.)

Is it just an hidden way to tell us that you have a girlfriend?

You can always try making a theme for Hack Forums with the Stylish or Greasemonkey/Tampermonkey browser plugins.

Once you finished the theme you can show it to Omniscient and maybe he will consider adding it as official theme.

But I think the entire userbase needs lightening up, always very sad and angry people
