What do you expect from this sector : I expect to talk about methods and ideas that everyone has, how to become better at e-whoring, and how we can help the community out.

What is your experience level with eWhoring (Amateur/Intermediate/Expert) I would consider myself Intermediate. There is still much for me to learn but I'm at the level that I could help somebody out that's new to the scene.

Current method of eWhoring (kik etc) Current method is kik/skype, but I've used VCW's in the past.

Why should you be accepted : I believe that I should be accepted because I have dedicated much time to not only honing my own skills and making money but helping the community out as well. 15!

What do you expect from this sector :

I'm hoping to have a great time with the fellow members while sharing my methods and experiences whilst E-Whoring. Hopefully I meet some new people and help others make more money!

What is your experience level with eWhoring (Amateur/Intermediate/Expert):

I don't like to be cocky, but I'd consider myself an Expert to an extent. While grinding, I've achieved over $1,000 daily, sometimes in just a few hours. Note: I don't use the public Kik method, that's how I make an insane amount.

Current method of eWhoring (kik etc):

Although I don't use the public selling photos method, I do in fact use Kik as my messenger.

Why should you be accepted :

I believe I'd be a great addition to The Brotherhood because I'll be able to help out other members greatly in words of profiting. I plan to share some methods along with websites and such. Off of the E-Whore topic, I'm pretty chill and love to talk to others and have fun!

Are you willing to assist other members :

As said a bit above, I plan on helping ANYONE possible! I'd love to be a teacher to some and do as best as I can.

Anything else :

Thank you for checking out my application. Also, in terms of the Deal Dispute on me, it was resolved (read my thread regarding it) but the user is closed and cannot close or edit the thread. I can prove this in any way possible!

Kudayoru - April 17, 2016, 4:18 am

Going to give this a try since I did ewhore a lot September-November and now trying to get back with more dedication then ever.

Name & profile link : Kudayoru

Age : I am 17 years old (18 in July, if that matters.)

What do you expect from this sector : In this sector I am expecting to find great people to talk about ewhoring, psychology. People who are motivating each other and other members of HF. Obviously having a good time, laughing about mistakes, being happy for others. Basically in three words - good ewhoring community.

What is your experience level with eWhoring (Amateur/Intermediate/Expert) I would say that my level is close to Intermediate. What stops me from being Intermediate or even expert? I'd say lack of time lately would be the only thing, but since most of the end of the year tests in my school are behind - I am having more and more time to getting myself to Intermediate and Expert levels.

Current method of eWhoring (kik etc) I am currently using the kik method, but I might change that. Never have used VCW, and probably never will tho.

Why should you be accepted : I should be accepted, because as I mentioned before I am dedicated, I don't tend to give up and I am all about improving my skills. I am also going to buy and read few books on psychology so I would improve my human manipulation skills better, I also have quite a good experience in Social Engineering as such.

Are you willing to assist other members : I am, obviously. Although I have to be honest - I am rude to those who does not use search function in this forum. Whenever I go to ewhoring section and I see 10 threads in row called "Where to get traffic?" it just makes me a little bit mad, but I'm working on that.

Anything else : Few things I'd like to add. About contributions. I have not contributed to ewhoring section with personal guides etc., because as I mentioned I was active in the ewhoring scene September-November of 2015, and now I'm just getting back to it, but I am obviously about to get more active in the ewhoring section whenever I'll start developing methods.

Last thing I'd like to say. Since English is not my primary language, I obviously do have mistakes both in my grammar and sentence building, but I am an hard worker and I am doing my best to improve that.

Hoping to hear from you soon.

Thank you.

What do you expect from this sector : I'd expect a well organized e-whore team that helps each other to earn money. Basically you share your own methods, tips and tricks. If you recruit ten people im sure at least five of these ten people have unique methods which will help the other members tremendously. So yeah, a sector which will have unique methods and tips for other members and just having a good time talking to people with the same interest in making money. And ofcours improve my skills as well.

What is your experience level with eWhoring (Amateur/Intermediate/Expert): Probably expert, I know my ways around most methods out there and I've earnt a good total amount in my years e-whoring.

Current method of eWhoring: Had a little break for a few months but just came back so trying out a new method now using snapchat, been working quite well. It has potential.

Why should you be accepted : I think I deserve to be accepted because I have a lot to contribute with, I could share my tips and tricks around e-whoring and I am a genuine nice guy in general as well. I have also been e-whoring for almost three years (with pauses ofc) using all kinds of different methods.

Are you willing to assist other members : I am obviously, although I'd like the members to be able to use the search function before asking.

Anything else : Thanks for taking your time to read my application.

What do you expect from this sector :

I expect to help the eWhoring community and inspire, motivate and stimulate other to earn as much as I do.

What is your experience level with eWhoring (Amateur/Intermediate/Expert):

Expert, I used to earn 100-575 per day on autopilot. However due too trouble with PayPal I'd had to quit for a while. Now I'm motivated to do the same as 4 months ago, it's time to rake in money again. I've been eWhoring for over 3 years now, so I know enough about eWhoring to call myself an expert.

Current method of eWhoring (kik etc):

Rather won't post this publicly in application, this can be handled in the future on sub-forums.

Why should you be accepted :

I fit in the group perfectly, and am willing to teach other persons my knowledge.

Are you willing to assist other members :

Yes, my main goal is to help the eWhoring community, this variates on easy answers and mentoring. I've given away various tutorials on eWhoring before on the forums and I'm willing to keep doing that. I'm also planning on giving away ewhoring packs to the community.

What do you expect from this sector:

I'm expecting a group of people who each got their own skillset and and is willing to help each other when it's needed.

Currently I already got some good experience with e-whoring, I know how perverts think, I know how to recognize time wasters. I know how to handle in certain situations. This might be helpful for members in the group. My main expectation is that I might be able to exchange experience/knowledge with other members from the group. That's how you become better in something.

What is your experience level with eWhoring (Amateur/Intermediate/Expert)
Between intermediate & expert.

Current method of eWhoring (kik etc)

Kik & Social Media, but I'm currently still experimenting with dating sites to see what possibilities there are in that world.

Why should you be accepted:

I'm pretty much a helpful guy who loves to think about new ways of making money. I also love improving idea's of other people and discuss their idea to see what the pros and cons are. Beside e-whoring I'm a programmer as well which can be really helpful for some things in the e-whoring world. I'm trying to bring e-whoring to a higher level by combining different methods.

Are you willing to assist other members:

I'm basically already assisting people and trying to make e-whoring easier for everyone. I made a sweet tool which has brought e-whoring to another level allowing "new e-whorers" to make some good money as well.
