Thread: Selling Forum | Custom Theme / Custom Awards \(20+\) / Custom Userbars / Custom Plugins

OGMeme - April 19, 2016, 10:13 am

Since I'm obviously not very trusted I'm MORE than willing to use a MM. The MM needs to be someone who is highly trusted and we both agree to use him.

The forum URL is <http://shitforums.com>

If you don't like the domain then you can obviously change it and the theme/awards/userbars will still work with it.

I would also like to explain why the domain is ShitForums and what makes this site unique. Basically I've been in the general forums community for 8 years and I've noticed there is a COUNTLESS amount of users who love to troll and joke around with other members. After seeing this and participating in it for this long I have obviously noticed how harshly users can be punished for just having some fun, which is why I made this forum. This forum is an area where users can come and enjoy themselves. If you've been in the forums community for any time at all you'll understand what I'm talking about, the possibilities for this forum are endless and growing a community would be extremely simple.

The site is 100% finished and works flawlessly.

We have a working Newpoints betting plugin, a ban page, working my alerts, @mentionme, and more.

Accepted Payments: Bitcoin, or PayPal (only from very trusted members.)

Starting bid: $60

BIN: $100

C/O:

If you're interested in buying or have questions PM me your Skype or XMPP.

The domain is included in the sale, everything is included. In addition to everything above a custom thread design is also included.

I put a decent amount of money ($60) into having everything custom made so I'm looking to get at least what I paid back out.

Why are you selling this: I already own a site that takes up 110% of my time and this idea I had is just too much.

The Middleman you want to use is banned.

Just searched him up.
