Thread: Bytecrypter Royal scammed 35\$ btc

growingdanger - April 23, 2016, 12:36 pm

After contacting him on jabber and some of my mates contacted him on HF also but unfortunately no respond or any sign of life.

I bought this crypter a month ago and since i got the crypter i only received 1 update and that was 1 week after i bought, now the crypter hasnt been updated for almost a month now! And he is ignoring PM's and Jabber pm's and the funny thing is hes still active on on HF.... look:

Also look other threads from other people who complain about Bytecrypter and also closed his sales thread.

This post will stay till he respond on jabber or atleast pm me on HF or fully refund my 35$.

This was the date when he closed his thread: 04-03-2016, 02:17 and arround 15 april he changed his status to: "will be active 17th april" and hes still not showing any signs.

Imagine how long he didnt update his crypter but this was the peak of the iceberg

Ps. overall it was a great crypter with strong presistence and bypasses runtime of almost every AV, but to bad the service isnt just great thats why im giving up on this one.

Waiting 1-2 days before doing anything. Since he's not really exit scamming its just a faulty service. However still sorry for your loss OP. I hope he replies.

cant change title but this is his uid=577996

Royal ! - April 26, 2016, 11:41 am

I am also a Human Being, not a Robot. And hence, I can also face issues and issues come into my life just like any other human Being. They don't say like "Hey Royal ! we are coming". You need to understand this. I am still having issues in real life but still I got the things back on track now.

I won't leave my customers in Dark and/or Exit scam. Whenever I have to close the project I will announce it to YOUR FACE bluntly. We are human beings and life is unpredictable. I won't hesitate one bit in announcing it openly whenever this project is about to be closed.

I am sorry if this delay caused you too much inconvenience but I will make it up for you by adding extra days if you have three months License.

Thank you.

How can i get this thread removed?

I hope you wont leave us alone and next time make an official date when your coming back

Anyways good luck and i still like the crypter like i said above.
