Good luck to all applicants ?

Fiz? - May 1, 2016, 7:01 pm

Brotherhood is a great group to be in, best of luck to everyone that applies.

Tell us about your history on HF : Joined in 2012, became active 2013 and been fairly active ever since in the marketplace and all across the forum.

What have you contributed to the HF community (Link threads/posts) : I don't like to say nothing, but nothing that I would consider notable. So take that as you like.

Past reviews (if none write N/A) : I can't find any, but I have written ,many before and am often approached for review copies.

How do your reviews differ from others? : I don't lie, if someone sends me a shitty product I give a shitty review.

Why should you be accepted into the Brotherhood? : I believe I would be a great addition to the group and be a great representative.

The Brotherhood is a really fun group to be in.

Good luck to all applying, please take your time to double check your spelling and if you missed something. ?

Do you pass all the requirements : Yes, I do.

Tell us about your history on HF : I started off first on halostrike as I was interested in team standbys in H2. I got tired of playing legit and getting cheated on when you hit lvl 40+. It then gradually got into modding. Then it got into host booting because of DONTCARE. He was a known booter (the first that I know of). Then halostrike got shortly shut down and I was still interested in bots and kicking people offline and it eventually led me to here in 2010. I also got into RATs and found poisonivy (throwback).

What have you contributed to the HF community (Link threads/posts) : I have been on HF for over 6 years and involved with reselling of many products. Such as the sk1d products and blackout AIO. Though these have ended and are no longer supported, these were very popular back in early 2011 that I provided support for.

The issue with reselling and why I stopped coming back to HF was that I was tired of the scamming. Joker, the owner of Sk1d, was backdooring his product and infected many members. I made a thread originally with screenshots and had him banned. The second time around, with Blackout AIO, Gamepro was the owner, and he simply just stopped replying and went off the grid. At this point, I've had so many PMs and IM messages up that I didn't know what to do. I couldn't even refund customers, because all I did was provide support.

A couple of years later, BlackShades was released and I thought wow, a product that looks good and will probably last. I decided to wait to see if it would last. Then about 6 months after, it got shut down by the FBI.

Though I haven't contributed much to the forum as I did to my own wallet, at least I didn't give up on helping members and runaway with the money. I love helping members and making sure that what they pay for, is the real deal, and won't have to worry about being infected.

Past reviews (if none write N/A) : I have done a lot of reviews. Most recently, Formula 1's new eBook and SkullCandy's

How do your reviews differ from others? : I first try and attempt the method before giving out the review. I don't lie and post my feedback on a method that I haven't tried.

Why should you be accepted into the Brotherhood? : I know that by having me apart of your group, we can make HF's marketplace better and decrease the amount of scamming. There's too many eBooks and products out there with many reviews from upgraded and respected members, but the method/product, itself is trash.

Good luck to everyone applying Brotherhood is an amazing group

Excalibur' - May 2, 2016, 10:27 am

I spent fkin too long writing the application just to see its just for the review sector smh.

Tell us about your history on HF :

I registered for Hackforums to attempt to gain some knowledge and make a few dollars along the way. It turns out, that this forum is the ideal spot for that. I've made so many friends, and gained so much knowledge in numerous fields that I never plan on leaving this community.

How do your reviews differ from others? :

Surprisingly, my reviews are honest. Just because you accept me into the group, I will not dick ride and give every review a 10/10. If it is a legitimate method with legitimate payouts, or a High Quality product, I will leave a HQ review. If it is trash, I'll say it's trash.

Why should you be accepted into the Brotherhood? :

I feel as if I can bring knowledge and common sense. Others can teach me, and I can spread some light on a few fields aswell.

Who applies for something without knowing what it is? You obviously cant read so I dont think you would be fit for this slot anyways.

Do you pass all the requirements : Guess so

Tell us about your history on HF : It was one afternoon on November 26, 2012 where I stumbled upon the site HackForums. I was just playing Minecraft at the time trying to find out how to grief more efficiently in the game. In one server, I met a wannabe Team aVo team who had been using Nodus and Xenon griefing clients. I asked them where did they get them, they replied with the name "HackForums". So I looked it up, and found heaven in the Minecraft Griefing section. Moving forward a bit, Minecraft griefing just got really boring so, I explored the other areas on HF such as the money section. That section is honestly cancer. Later, I got interested in the graphics section and started the path in design. And this is where I am today, an in progress learning graphics designer.

What have you contributed to the HF community (Link threads/posts) : I don't recall or absolutely nothing.

Past reviews (if none write N/A) : Wrote a lot a while ago, but I doubt I can find them so, N/A.

How do your reviews differ from others? : I'll straight up be honest. If the product is shitty, here's a shitty review. If the product is good, here's an honest review on it.

Why should you be accepted into the Brotherhood? : Up to you.

END OF APPLICATION

Admiral Nelson - May 9, 2016, 8:11 am

Still accepting applications. I would like to get a few more before I close the thread and review the applications. DO NOT pm me about the applications. If you are excepted when the recruitment is over then you will be PMed.
