

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Photos taking up tons of space

thales - April 26, 2016, 9:17 pm

Can't fix it. I've deleted all but like 5 pictures and deleted everything INCLUDING the "Recently deleted" album. Still says I have 2.4gb in photos. I don't want to reset my phone or anything.

Does anyone know how to fix this problem?

b?xxy - April 26, 2016, 9:20 pm

Try deleting your recently deleted photos.

And try deleting your phot stream if you have one.

thales - April 26, 2016, 9:21 pm

(Apr 26, 2016 09:20 PM)b?xxy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Try deleting your recently deleted photos.

And try deleting your phot stream if you have one.I said I already deleted my recently deleted photos and not even sure what "photo stream" is.

thales - April 26, 2016, 9:27 pm

(Apr 26, 2016 09:25 PM)Game Freak Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Photo stream is where you can share photos across all of your idevices.

It's useless.If it involves iCloud, I have iCloud disabled.

?lood - April 26, 2016, 9:28 pm

Settings->general->reset->erase all content and settings and erase all content. Make sure its backed up, haven't done this in awhile. But i remember having the same problem and it worked.

If that doesn't work then maybe try....

<https://discussions.apple.com/thread/6012047?tstart=0>

b?xxy - April 26, 2016, 9:31 pm

(Apr 26, 2016 09:28 PM)?lood?ath Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Settings->general->reset->erase all content and settings and erase all content. Make sure its backed up, haven't done this in awhile. But i remember having the same problem and it worked.

If that doesn't work then maybe try....

<https://discussions.apple.com/thread/6012047?tstart=0>

He stated he didn't want to reset his phone.

The only other thing I can think of is your message attachments, which should go under messages.

thales - April 26, 2016, 9:32 pm

(Apr 26, 2016 09:28 PM)?lood?ath Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Settings->general->reset->erase all content and settings and erase all content. Make sure its backed up, haven't done this in awhile. But i remember having the same problem and it worked.

If that doesn't work then maybe try....

<https://discussions.apple.com/thread/6012047?tstart=0>Holy shit one of the dude's responses on the site worked. Thanks so much bro.

