It's the trailer to the entire series. Don't judge too hard. It's all in good fun and humor.

What did I just watch haha. I sorta understand what the chanell is about but towards the end it made the point of the video confusing for me.

Still thought it was funny, nice job dude. Keep grinding footage.

Haha thanks bro. The channel is about tasting random shit like a stapler, pen, tape, aluminum foil, etc. it's supposed to be like a stupid funny. You can watch the first video if you want a bit more of context.

This is one of the dumbest things I've seen but people will watch anything I guess, good luck.

I'm trying to kinda get people to really understand the sarcastic-ness of the video so they can appreciate it more. In the future, I'm gonna make vids only a minute long so people can still enjoy them without wasting too much time

Dude honestly it's good content, just go bigger now. I can see you going up to people and having them make you taste something or maybe you could take a few objects and have them choose your fate! Haha. All in all, it's good content, just stay focused and worry about putting quality > quantity.

Get a friend to help you go film, and a wireless mic is key.

Thanks everyone :).

Thc, any recommendations for wireless mic?
