I like to make the ramen w/o flavoring and then drain it, add 1 tbsp of butter and then the flavor packet. Best ramen EVER

With chopsticks or forks.

The best kind of ramen, just add a stick of butter and garlic and you're good to go.

Ah. I like to add a little bit of Thai pepper to mine for a little but or spicy beef flavor powder.

I squirt sriracha in the water during boiling. Drain completely, more sriracha, seasoning packet. Delish.

INDEED! I do it exactly like you do!

1 difference, the ramen I buy got 1 pack with 2 parts: 1 part is the flavor part and the other is the butter/oil part.

And I make them with lots of LOVE. Tastes best when made with love ??

A STICK OF BUTTER????

or just a little bit of butter

i prefer eating the ramen with like 30 seconds of water in the micro and the flavoring packet.

Obviously not a whole stick. :P Just 2 butter slices is good enough for a cup of ramen.

I like them with lemon. Actually I like anything with lemon. Almost anything.

i gotta try that out sometime.

for some reason a toast ramen sandwich sounds really good.

I like to crush it and put it in a bowl with the flavoring.

Bring a glass of water with you.

I usually partially cook the noodles in warm water and set them aside and grab sliced short-ribs and cook in terriyaki sauce, throw in steamed broccoli and eventually stir in the noodles and sautee for a few minutes .

Comes out really tasty to be honest, I want some rightnow.

Add enough cheese to make the soup milky orange.

Add some meat of some kind if you have some.

Steamed broccoli in it is nice sometimes.
