EditSynopsis

Shizuku Mizutani is apathetic towards her classmates, only caring about her grades. However, her cold view of life begins to change when she meets Haru Yoshida, a violent troublemaker who stopped attending class after getting into a fight early in the school year. He is not much different from her, though—he too understands little about human nature and does not have any friends. Much to Shizuku's surprise, he proclaims that she will be his friend and immediately confesses his feelings towards her upon meeting her.

Because of her lack of friends and social interaction, Shizuku has a hard time understanding her relationship with Haru. But slowly, their friendship begins to progress, and she discovers that there is more to Haru than violence. She begins to develop feelings for him, but is unsure what kind of emotions she is experiencing. Together, Shizuku and Haru explore the true nature of their relationship and emotions.

Shit, isn't that the cutest fucking Anime ever?

DerMensch24 - April 29, 2016, 8:52 pm

I watched this a few weeks ago, the first episode was iffy but after that it was enough to finish watching. Pretty decent anime, good amount of comedy and awk scenes :3

Quite enjoyed it, but I'm pretty sure here there's a group of queers on here who didn't like it.

Grumpy Otaku - April 29, 2016, 9:46 pm

I watched this a while back it was a great show I highly recommend watching it.

That motherfucker is strong as fuck. Going against upperclassmen like it's nothing and shit.

Vip?r - April 30, 2016, 3:11 pm

Fucking anime was A1. Try Sukitte ii Na Yo.

absolutezero273 - May 1, 2016, 11:13 am

I wanted to watch this, too. But haven't gotten enough time to. :(

So good might rewatch it, I forgot but there was another anime similar to these two that I used to always put together but I can't seem to remember the name.

This is a good comparison of the two:

Tonari no Kaibutsu-kun was pretty enjoyable, the part where the Natsume vomits is hilarious. Even if you're not a fan of shoujo, if you can handle a slowish pace you might get some enjoyment out of it.

I always fucking laugh when they pronounce the titles in Japanese.

Started rewatching sukutte ii na yo, fuuuuck the feels, the nostalgia, right in the kokoro. ~

You best believe it. The main male character isn't a complete pussy, he's the opposite. You'll see like right away by the end of ep 1.
