I've checked out the PV trailers etc. I'm a fan of the 1940's japan style and the art looks good. Also seems like a fairly smart and cool spy/espionage story. However after watching the first episode I was left a little flat... Seemed a bit wanky. Anyone else watching this and care to give me a head or tails?

The first 5 minutes made me drop the anime, as I thought it was pretty weird and a Japanese depiction of WW2 tend to be very inaccurate. I decided to give it a 2nd try, and I got hooked onto it. If you're interested in watching some over powered human that can read multiple languages, taking down enemies at ease, give it a try!

This was one of the anime i was looking forward to this season, i hope it pulls itself together on later episodes.

I usually wait for shows to finish airing before watching, so i can binge them.
