Don't think he cares what brand the shoes are, just a random cheap pair from the internet that look decent.

i got scammed off of ioffer last month. Not saying it will happen to you, but im not saying it won't. iOffer's customer support is complete shit. They literally kept me on hold for 45 minutes, and then said they had to go because they were closing. THEN, the next day, I got put on hold for 20 minutes, and then someone picked up! but told me to hold, and then just hung up!
