This is just my review. You can have a different opinion.

Can't figure out if it's a music listening website or a blog dedicated to music

Horrible design (sorry)

Website takes too much time to load (10 seconds)

Lower the amount of things you need. (190 requests just for the main website). It's only going to hurt your SEO in the long run.

But those are just my observations. Do whatever you want with them ?

Loading time is massive.

Way too many external resources, tons of external images.

Web design is poor, it's very unorganized nor is it mobile friendly.

Way too long of a load time, I agree.

It's also very cluttered and I feel like I'm on a spammy site.

It definitely has potential, but it could use a lot of improvement.

It took me a while to load the website like the others and the first stage isn't really organized there is a bar in the upper parts and the windows with the news each has different size and in addition you have bar on the right with most recommended posts that has small fonts and it's written white over black. In addition I think that the categories that appear on the bottom of the page can be more clear

The website is way too slow, closed it after few seconds...
