There was an exploit on facebook before, remember that any account without an email account, we were able to register the account on any email so that we can steal it in that way.

So facebook created auto @facebook.com email (random)
So every @facebook.com email you see know that there no another.

Yeah but i'm talking about the yahoo method, for some friends it shows me the xxxx@facebook.com mail, but at the same time they have another email xxxx@gmail.com or xxxx@hotmail.com linked to their facebook account.

So how can I find the other email?

PS : Concerning your method, I get this error when I try to get the token
"The application has disabled OAuth client flow"

there's no email registered if you didn't another email.

you will get the error but before the redirection grab the token.

im having issues with step # 2:

whenever i go to that link it comes up with a page that says:

SECURITY WARNING: Please treat the URL above as you would your password and do not share it with anyone. See the Facebook Help Center for more information.

but it doesnt show the token anywhere

and for a split second in the URL shows:
