Thread: You should watch Red Garden

You should watch the series red garden; in my honest opinion it has tons of similarities with the series gantz to me it feels like a gender swapped version of gantz Spoiler (Click to View)all girl team of fucking up monsters to live in order to fight for bodies back while gantz is a mixed gender teams revolving around a similar idea massacring monsters for the sake of getting their bodies back when their already dead.

All of the MC's in this series are girls; it's a major mystery at the beginning 7-10 episodes really trying to figure out what the hell happened; there is 23 episodes total, IMO it's really good.

Haven't seen either series, so its essentially butt-kicking to retrieve dead bodies of themselves or loved ones, etc?

Well I didn't want to put any spoilers but essentially it involves basically murder, conspiracy, curses, monsters, and shit like that, and these 4 girls have to kill monsters every night and if they don't kill them /follow the order to kill them they will die because the bodies are borrowed. They are essentially fighting to earn back their bodies. It goes a lot more in depth so I didn't really spoil anything.
