So I was browsing around and scraping the net like usual when I came across a pretty funny picture of Donald Trump's head on an eagle. So I decided I would check out the thread that it came from. Within that thread were some of the craziest and most hilarious Donald Trump edit wallpapers and pictures I've seen--So I figured I'd share them with you. Some are funny some are not.

I know it's kinda crazy. I wish Cruz would have held out for awhile longer. But I don't know. I think a lot of people don't know which way to go or who to vote for. There's one in that pack at least that puts his head on George Washington.

Trump is a better shitposter than all of us if you just look at his social media.

Waiting on Bernie to run as independent to force split the vote with Hillary, making Trump win.
