No, it got me pretty salty because if you don't have enough money to buy a group I don't see how said person will have enough money to keep it going, if you see what I mean.

I am also the co-leader of Fusion so I can't say much about Fusion other than it's pretty dead since Raptor went AWOL but I'll try to organize some events between the two.

All I can say for Minecrafters is that I, am not a fuckboy. I've been in Minecrafters and it was horrible and the experience I've had with them was also horrible.

Minecrafters is alright. I'm not really into Minecraft but, it's kind of fun to play with others that love to joke around. I hate those serious Minecraft players that start losing shit when you mess up on something simple.
