It's look really good!

Have you made this by your self, or is it a source code you just have customized?

Its a source i bought on CodeCanyon long time ago. I'm tweaking it and adding other stuff.

All this does is give you a less intuitive UI for listening to music via YouTube.

I'm kinda confused for the name of the site. You have like three different names, and you had two different domains..

Dope spotify clone, OP. ? It is actually really nice, though. Do you have to upload all of the music files to the site itself or do you have some kind of CDN?
