Thread: Riptide ~ Recruitment

glitchgxd - May 6, 2016, 9:34 pm

The waves clash by the eye of the shore, thus the tide is born.

For any questions/information, please see the general information thread:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5253595>

This is a general recruitment with no set guidelines. Create/submit your own application here. We're looking for content creators.

If you create or produce music, write stories or poems, draw, sculpt, design, or anything artistic, feel free to apply.

We have several projects in the sub-forum that we are working on and will require members to show some participation in these.

We are looking people who will be active and work with us to keep the group at a high standard.

Please note, that our art is public. If you can not share your art, then you might not get accepted as many of our projects are going to come out public.

If you have works that you don't want to share, then that's understandable, but we would prefer you create new art that you can share so we can collect an opinion of you.

Members will be selected by myself, the leaders, and other group members and reviewed by myself and the leaders. From there, anyone accepted will get a personal invitation.

If you have any recruitment questions, feel free to ask them here. All other general group questions should be submitted to the general information thread I linked above.

Best of luck and hope to see some new faces in Riptide!

A Group for arts, FINALLY.

Hello, I'm Chubownage, My friend call me, Val. I'm 19 years old and love to read... Here is my Submission:

I have been on hackforums since 9/11/2014. I recently began becoming active about a month ago. I love to learn, i love to read and i love to write. For about 3 years now my Social Media Network has revolved around my Articles. I'm online most of the time and i browse through blogs daily. I have one certain Topic that i love to read/write about and that is Horror. I am a horror fanatic but if you were to see me in person you would have no idea. I'm a casual young dude with money motives that come through my work. I believe that if i keep doing what i enjoy (such as writing articles and making content for my Audience) it will soon feed me.. I truly do love and appreciate my fans as i interact with them personally on a day to day basis.

I'm slowly and slowly progressing into web development as it's been a desire of mine as a side goal aside from content creating.

If you're interested in more of me feel free to message me and i'll be more than happy to.

Just a tip--we're trying to move away from the concept of "sectors" as we're trying to bring the group together more instead of alienating each other into separate sub-groups.

We will be reviewing all applicants over the next week and possibly longer, so keep them coming, and feel free to update them at any time. We will make a post when we've reviewed them all.

Fucking post when you're ready to post your application lol

It has literally no advantages

Kden - May 7, 2016, 1:04 am

Hello my name is Caiden, I began designing at the age of 11 as that was around the time where i was designing banners or (bgs as they called them back then) and logos for cod clans. I also can edit.

Age - I am 15 years old.

Programs I'm experience with - Adobe Photoshop, Adobe Illustrator(signatures) Cinema 4D, Sony Vegas Pro, After Effects.

Why I think I should/want to be apart of Riptide - I feel as if there are not many groups of people with the same knowledge as myself and other people going for this. I want to get to know people with the same experience and hobbies as what I have. I have just about 4 years of Graphic Designing Experience. This is why I think I should join Riptide. Thanks.

What content do you produce? I produce short stories and long stories as well as debate articles etc.

What made you start producing the content you produce? For debate articles I was always someone who saw both sides of a argument unless one side was significantly stronger and had a lot of facts. I always liked to debate since I've always had a argumentative attitude when it comes to certain topics. I've wrote a few debate threads on HF. When it comes to short stories and long stories I been writing those since I was a small lad. I always had unspeakable and unimaginable stories in my head that I love to write about. I write mainly Adventure stories but I venture off when writing sometimes I put some humour in it when I write it. Depends on the atmosphere and setting the character is in then i try to fit in stuff that correlates to that.

Why do I want to join Riptide?: Because I love the variety of arts. I love graphical art, photography, video editing and much more. I want to join Riptide because I want a casual group who you can relate to on a personal level without it getting violent and serious.

Why should I be accepted?: Because I am passionate, hardworking and always looking to help others. I want to make everyone around me feel happy with themselves and always try to get them to where they want to be. I haven't done much photography that isn't for other people in awhile due to me not knowing anyone

(and this goes the same for my tags) that does go out for shoots. I hate doing stuff alone, which is why I think Riptide would be a great place for me!

Will you participate in events, collaborations, and overall be active?: Absolutely, I have been wanting to collab with another tagger for a LONG time. It's so much fun and the art that comes out of both styles is usually amazing. I remember collabing with people on TagFreak back in the day and I met a lot of great people that ended up teaching me a lot. If the event is in my area of design, I would 100% participate unless I have irl issues!

Your profile: Ayahuasca

Why should we accept you, over someone else?: I've answered this question twice trying to apply for Riptide previously. Honestly it hurts that I haven't been accepted. (Maybe I will on the third?) I've applied 3 times to join Riptide now, taking a lot of time putting my applications together. If anything, this should show you that I'm actually dedicated and that I want to join Riptide for the cause, not just to join another group. I'm an artist, and I love doing it. I put everything into every single piece that I create. I'm knowledgeable on anything and everything about Photoshop, tagging, and the 'art rules'. I create tutorials for those who want them, spending 2 hours on each tutorial, just to help someone else. Teaching others is definitely a passion of mine because I like watching their growth as an artist, and I like to see how my assistance helped(if it did) with their growth. If I see a tag or photo posted in the sub section, I'll give it in depth constructive criticism. Want to collab on a tag? I'm 100% down.

This may sound conceited, but I'm a member that you want, I can assure you that. I really hope I get accepted because this is a group I belong in the most.

Thanks for reading, and considering my application.

Stuff I wrote

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

not long ago, i had a soul,
i had a purpose and a goal.
waking hours, daily horror
fill my body with pain and sorrow, forever walking in despair
taking on my private share.
always waiting to meet my end,
to welcome it, like a long lost friend,
it will be the most redeeming embrace,
the last one that i have to face,
but no fear inside my heart,
its not an ending, more like a start,
a new journey full of hope and joy,
like a child, waiting for his newest toy,
a dog rejoicing for a bone,
a king, sitting on his throne,
coming home to be the same to meet again with mary jane.

had my fill of love in this life,
got hurt, got burned, barely survived,
swore myself, wont happen again,
no love, no trust, not one good friend,
never to depend, no ear to lend,
not a single fuck to give,
wont budge, wont bend, not even if i will be sent, to hell for this most selfish life, no children, family, not even a wife,
to spend my remaining time alone,
not bothered with my heart of stone,
my heart of ice which was on fire,
craving for the old desire,
but foolishly i told him no,
this is the only way that we can go,
just me and my thoughts, well so it seems,
until me death finally redeems.

application (Click to View)

Please put an "x" next to each field you wish to apply for:

Sound Engineer/Designer -

Music Producer -

Singer/Rapper -

Lyricist/Poet/Songwriter -

Listener/Record Reviewer -X

Basic Questions

What is your preferred name? Crazy1s

Who is your favorite artist? I listen to a range of music but my favorites would most likely be caliban,yelowolf,damien marley.

Are you active and willing to listen to criticism?Of Course

Tell me about yourself and what you love. Well honestly i love music. Doesn't really matter which genre most of the time,just depends on what im in the mood for. My wife constantly asks me how i memorize music like i do,and i tell her i have no idea. Ill hear a song,and then be able to pick it apart and play it back later in my head(came in handy when i was trying to learn guitar). She also hates that i know every word to every song,and cant help singing them out loud. :)

Field Questions

Listener/Record Reviewer

What is your preferred genre and what is your experience with reviewing/understanding music? Preferred music genres would be rap and metal. Experience is just my personal understanding of how music works and how its supposed to flow.

Please provide a small review on a song of your choice from whatever genre.My Review Song
Overall one of my favorite bands. I liked their older stuff better,it seems that there sound is moving towards something along the lines of slipknot. I enjoy the use of harmonics in their music, as well as it being relateable music,but i dislike the way the sound is moving towards something else as i stated above.

Overall [8/10] Would listen again.

Have you ever reviewed music in publication?Nope

Are you willing to review artists within Riptide?Of Course

Are you willing to assist other members of this group with your feedback?Yes i will Hello, I'm Realizm and I'm 20 years old. I'm very chill, a friend of Prada, Glitch, and Zexo, and I also am a bit of an audiophile. I have $2k invested into my cars sound system, and I have about 8 pairs of headphones... not including my 4 pairs of gaming headsets. I listen to all kinds of music from hip-hop, rap, rock, country, alternative, pop, etc. The only thing I don't care to listen to all that much is screamo-emo music though I do like a few songs from Korn and whatnot. Not many... but there are 1 or 2 songs that I like.

I'm terrible at graphics... my computer won't even let me open Photoshop anymore because it's too ashamed of me to open. Although Paint is still on my side, but a pop-up while saving did ask if I was 4years old. So I definitely cannot help out in the graphics department. BUT... I'd love to talk with people about music and whatnot :)

I'm also a decent writer. I know how to write... and I'm an okay drawer as well. Just something about using a mouse and not a pen/pencil/marker/whatever doesn't work for me. I can also sculpt with like clay and stuff.

Why are you interested in joining this group?: I'm interested in joining this group because there are many various sub-forums that I'd enjoy to be a part of. From writing, photography, and the music industry this is a group that interests me the most. I am interested in joining this group because I run my own vaping Instagram where I make reviews, show cool tricks, cloud chase and even show coil builds. I'm highly interested in joining this group because I feel like with my knowledge in vaping and social media I can help other members start their own pages.

What are my highest skill levels in?: My highest skill set comes into play with my vaping page. A few months ago I decided to make the page purely out of testing to see where my hobby could take me. From that I fell in love with what I was doing and I realized that others also loved what I was doing; therefore, I pursued my hobby. I ended up asking other vapers in the community if they could give me a shout out to help me promote awareness that vaping is 100% better for you than smoking a cigarette. And so it worked... it actually worked out so well for me that I went and asked juice companies if they were sponsoring and willing to let me advertise their products. They said of course and currently I'm getting awesome deals for juices and profits that I'd never thought I'd be able to get. But, with the hard work that I put into vaping I was able to make it a success and that's what I want to help others in the group do... take their social media niches and put them to the test.

How active are you on hackforums?: Honestly, I spend more time on hackforums then I should actually admit to. I normally take around 8-10 hours of my day out dedicated to hackforums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted?: I feel that I should be accepted because I'm a person that is easy to get a long with, knowledgeable, creative, outgoing and willing to share my methods that took me years to learn how to do. Not, only that I believe I should be accepted because I'm active and I will make sure to prove my activeness throughout the sub-forum by giving members tutorials and helping guides that will lead them to a success with Instagram and/or other social media platforms. I'm not only good with social media, but I'm also someone who loves to write and listen to music. When I listen to music I tend to write a lot of poetry because it brings out the emotions I hold deep down in my mind and heart. I also believe I should be accepted because I am easy to work with and I make sure to get tasks done that are assigned to me; thus, you wouldn't be adding a dead member to the group.

When and why did you join hackforums?: I joined hackforums in early May, 2011 and I originally joined here because I wanted to increase my knowledge on rats. From there I ended up spreading out into online marketing and learning a few tips and tricks. With those tips and tricks I developed gaining more and more knowledge from reading on this forum and other online e-books. With all of the knowledge I gained I took it as an advantage and used it to form my vape Instagram where I do reviews, tricks and build tutorials. I also joined this forum to meet new people to share knowledge with and play video games and I must say I met a lot of people.

What are your hobbies and tell us about yourself?: I have many various hobbies and some of those include; mountain biking, hiking, swimming, fishing, dirt biking, e-commerce web site designing, vaping, social media, and a whole lot more. Those hobbies have developed over the years from living in California and being down by the beach for the most part. While living in California I have quite good weather here so it allows me to do many cool outdoor activities like the ones I mentioned. I've lived in California my whole life, but I don't plan on staying here my whole life. I do plan on moving out to England where my families originally from. I want to live there because I have a lot of family out there and it would be a nice change from the United States; after-all, I've lived here 19 years. I plan on going into computer system engineering in college and taking that to what ever career it leads me.

Sahaj's Application

Who Am I?

My name is Sahaj, that's my IRL first name too. I'm a 17 year old guy from India. I love playing soccer, spending time with my girlfriend, being chill, and sharing my knowledge with others. I joined HF back in 2014, as a normal member doing nothing to earn money, and being hopeless, I couldn't afford to buy an upgrade, but a generous member believed in me, and upgraded me personally, I decided to show him, that he did the right thing. Today, I'm more HQ than any of the other members who made fun of me in the past for being a normal member who spoke the truth. If you're curious who the member who upgraded me was, here's his profile: Flaw'. That was just my history on HF. I've always been a HQ and an active member on the forum, trying to help everyone where I can.

What I Specialize In/Art:

I am a graphics designer, I've been doing graphics designing on HF for over an year now. I'm a self taught graphics designer. Other than that, I know C++, a bit of C# and Python. These three languages are self taught as well. I also have knowledge in web development and designing, I know HTML/CSS, and a bit of Javascript and PHP.

Other than that, I also have been around security, I know SQL Injection and XSS. Currently, I'm learning Linux, and trying to master every aspect of Linux System Administration, because that's what I want to do in future as a full time job. I'm really interested in learning Linux, it's amazing how it works.

What do you do : Mostly animations, but some Photoshop as well.

Why do you stand out from all of the other applicants? : I work nicely in After Effects and I'm pretty good in the field of animations. I believe that simple work is the best, so I don't do many complex things. I do work for other people, free of charge just for experience. I love learning about design and that's my main goal while in this group.

Here are two poems I've written rather recently. This can be considered my application.

Fair Maiden

The wink of the moon is a forgiving description,
The locks of your hair, brittle and worn,
Every tomb you forebear has a decaying inscription,
Your empty touch can drive the most stoic to mourn.

Unconsidered by nature, but naturally torn,
The weight you must bear is never applied,
Vengeful at your mention, and your destruction they've sworn,
With the strength of cyanide, but your effects shall never subside.

You keep your fair distance,
Through your eyes you see no favorite,
Sickness plagues all at your mere insistence,
You're a people watcher and a natural behaviorist.

I can't avoid or dismiss you my love,
But death, my fair maiden, there's not an hour you go undreamed of.

The fog Rolls in

The sun's leaving the sky;
Time seems to flash right by;
The sky blackens and moods die;
Time after time I wonder why;
The fog rolls in.

Estranged tales and casual lies;
Preoccupation and ventures unwise;
Sometimes I just want to die;
All the while I wonder why;
The fog rolls in.

Mysticism in nature's eye;
Fouls cry and moons lie;
Indignant of my precious time;
Sometimes I try to explain why;
The fog rolls in.

A mesh of morality that's rather dry;

An objective truth is always shy;
Keyholes covered, unable to pry;
The time just passes by;
The fog rolls in.

Certainty is never implied;
Ignorance runs rampant with pride;
Our world used for a last joyride;
All the while I try to comply;
The fog rolls in.

Various beliefs all misguide;
Overshadowed by evil while I sit ringside;
If only it could be simplified;
Take the truth and subdivide;
The fog rolls in.

I can only ask a mirror so many times;
Why don't we answer to nature for our crimes;
Pretending to care sometimes;
All the while danger climbs;
The fog rolls in.

Hello. I really love the fact that this group is about art. When I first saw it, I didn't know what the group is about. And now, here I am, applying:

My name is Justin. I usually use the alias Quaff in forums, web, anything related to Online and Computer.

I am a 16 years old passionate writer. Once, when I was 14, I attempted a book, which has a few chapters, but really sounds weird to me in this moment, but I still consider it something good.

I have a passion to write stuff about love, to express myself through writing. That's probably the one and only thing that I'm really in that level where I can call myself skilled.

But, looking at it in a different way, there's no skill needed. It all comes to how you are writing and how readers take it. Even "I love eating bananas" is a form of expressing what you like to do, as a person. I guess writing is all about feeling what you write and letting your emotions down, on a paper.

Besides the "artist" inside of me, I'm a very social and open minded person. I'm always ready to meet new people, try new stuff and experience with or without others new things. I love nature, music, books and moody times when I'm super chill and relaxed.

I guess I'd make a good member of Riptide, always being there to help others or just see what's up with their lives, because I love checking on my buddies.

Here are some of my writings:

Spoiler (Click to View) I don't know how to dance. I'm not the best romantic, I make stupid jokes, I am weak sometimes. But I love you with all my heart.

I love you. And I will for a very long time, so long it can't be counted in seconds, minutes, hours, days, weeks, months, years, decades, centuries or millennia..

Leaves are on the ground, and with you I'm on top of the cloud.

Although I write about you, you know, there's things I can't really put into words. Every writing about you is a struggle to put thoughts and feelings into words.

I've come to the point where I know that I make mistakes and I try to change the bad in me. I finally understood that you can fuck up so much and in the same time be an extraordinary person, it's just that these two split into moments. You have to accept that you are both and that you have to fix and change the way you behaved in the fucked-up moments. That might lead you to being more extraordinary and less fucked up.

If life slaps you that hard that you fall and you feel like you can't get up on your feet, you have the choice to crawl.

If I was asked ten or five years ago "Where do you see yourself in 10 years?", there is a very low chance that I would've said "by her side". I had no idea, even a day before meeting her, I had no idea my life is going to change in a second.

There was an earthquake when she walked into my world. I collapsed and I've rebuilt that world, so now she became my world.

So after school I went straight home and jumped in my bed, watching the walls like they knew I'm thinking constantly about her. I was thinking about her eyes lately, they're like a galaxy, they tell a lot of stories, but the moment she looks with that big blue eyes at me, I get lost. I get to see that she's in love with me, I get to see how we're meant to be together.

Learning is something extraordinary. But isn't it better when you learn from each other and grow together?

All of these come out from my dedication and love. Her name is Patricia.

Thanks in advance for your time.

Hello, I'm 20 year old artist from Europe. I like to draw. I have never had any kind of a talent, everything I have learned took me a lot of time to learn. Recently I haven't been drawing a lot because I'm not surrounded by creatives as much as I used to. I really want to surround myself with artists so we can all strive in that environment. I want to start painting soon as well so I'd love to learn from more experienced painters and drawers as well as share my progress and lessons I learn on my path.

I'm really looking forward to explode in creativity. Thanks!

illuminati? - May 30, 2016, 11:13 am

Goodluck to all that apply.

Sejskaler - June 1, 2016, 8:14 am

Hello!

I'm Sejskaler, a guy with a lot of different interests, but more than anything, design in regards to the graphical element is something that's just appealing to me.

I have used photoshop and illustrator for ages, but why stop there? I've worked with after effects, SAI, Premiere, Flash, Chaotica, Zbrush, you get the gist of it, don't you?

Well, I am here to throw in an application, because I want to meet some people with my interests, and honestly, it's often a bit hard getting feedback in the RMG section.

Other than that, I want to work with people, so hey, a group sounds like a great spot to be ^^

Oh yea, just use Chris, it's a bit easier.

But Chris, what about dedication?

Well, now, that's a difficult question. So, let me cut to the chase.

I work for 7 hours a day, so my freetime is rather limited. BUT despite that, I practice atleast one hour a day, whether it be illustrations or drawing, which I am currently focusing on. And that is NOT limited, I often use hours and lose sleep to work on something.

Okay, that sounds good, but what about the work?

Now, I know this is not the main focus of the group, or I believe it is not. The group is all about improvement, but if I were to say so myself, I do have some good work here and there.

Let's showcase some here:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)[img]http://christofferwilckens.com/storage/app/media//Untitled-3.gif[/img]

Just a little of each, there's a portfolio here:

<http://christofferwilckens.com/>

Last question:
What about motivation?

Well, it's not easy being motivated all the time, and heck, once in a while I do chill out and do something just because, I once added googly eyes to gandalf as an example, and that is for no reason at all.

So with that, and the sundays where I am not working on anything, I am capable of holding up a pretty strong drive!

That's it folks, hope I'll meet some designers soon, even if you are not in the group, feel free to write a PM! I won't mind helping people out, or even tutoring one or two, I want to see new artists strive!

Regards
- Sejskaler

I am going to keep my application short and to the point.

I want to join the group because I feel like I can be an extra high quality member to add some activity within the group. I've been around hackforums since 2011 and in and out of multiple groups.

I would be a great member for this group because I'm easy to get along with and most of all I know how to listen to the rules that are within a group.

But, it's not just that I also have a few things I could teach members of the group... for instance how to market a social media account, how to get sponsors, how to make a website, how to create an ecommerce business, and even how to buy and resell things to make a great amount of money.

I'm keeping this application simple, because adding a bunch of additive bullshit means nothing.

? I hope you add me to the group and add another high quality member.

About Myself

My name is R??p?R, I'm from the EU and I'm 17 years old. I'm currently still in school and will be going into my last year of school in September.

I like to play games such as CS:GO, Overwatch etc. I also like sports such as Tennis and Basketball.

I'd consider myself to be a friendly person who is well mannered and easy to get along with.

Although sometimes I do get a bit angry, especially when I see others being treated unfairly or poorly.

What I specialize in

I specialize in some areas such as Private Investigation and Anonymity, Server Stress Testing, Free-hand drawing and Marketing.

I love to draw in my free time, In school I do Art as a subject and I also do Design and Communication Graphics (DCG).

DCG is the more technical side of drawing, it involves all the different things you would do in architecture etc.

Art on the other hand it the complete opposite, we have so much freedom in what we can do and draw. We do painting, pencil drawing, sculpting and carving.

I also love Marketing and making products, it's something I've always done since I was smaller, whether it be trading toys with friends or selling my PS2 games. Marketing has always been one of my strong points.

Why Choose Me?

I feel like I would be a great addition to this already amazing group. I have a nice personality. I'm always trying my best to help others or give back to the community.

I was helped by a lot of people on here and I'm grateful for that so I try give back as often as possible.

I believe I can achieve great things in this group, especially with my drawing skills.

I have a sketchbook that I can show anyone who wishes to see my drawings.

I believe I'm a very HQ person and I try not to be LQ or toxic towards anyone, but as you know sometimes people just push too much.

I love helping people out by making tutorials etc, especially now that I'm on summer holidays and will be off for the next 3 months. So I can make even more guides etc.

Other info

I'm very active, I'm on for around 6+ hours per day.

I'm EU

Thanks for taking the time to read my application.

Hey everyone, I'm Evanescence, but if you want you can call me Evan for short. I recently joined my first ever group on HF. I have had probably around 10 years of experience with computers in general and have a very good understanding as to how they work and how they weren't supposed to work, but do anyway. In hacking I have had experience with RATs, SE, and some tools from Kali like the air-ng suite, metasploit and meterpreter. I'm working on getting more experience with other Kali tools right now, so I'm no expert, but I'm still learning. If you would like any more information about me just let me know ?

Hi. I am a dedicated member to the Hackforums community, and while not popular, I believe that my addition to the group would be worthy. I am interested in being a representative of Riptide.

I decided not to go out all fancy with a PSD design due to the fact I am not 'artsy' as I feel other members would be. I do however have many ethical projects, one of which is called Hackernet, which is a MyBB client designed for the Hackforums community. It is an open source effort to seamlessly become apart of your favorite forum(s). I do believe that programming is a Mindset, and for this reason I have chosen to take part in Functional Programming (Haskell, Lisp, etc). These languages are mathematically bounded, and are used for things to be unhackable by design.

I take pride in my work, and I work for my pride. If you consider me to be apart of Riptide, and proudly wear the userbar and actively participate in the group forum, please send me a message requesting my résumé.

Greetings and welcome to my "content creator" journey..

Ever since I was 15 I found peace and joy in digital arts, I was fascinated to witness what a simple computer program could produce with a little imagination. And so I started learning graphics design on Photoshop, and despite all the negative comments people made and all the obstacles that came my way I never lost my passion to this field, and I was determined to keep learning and improving so that I could one day be as good as everyone else, and eventually be the very best. I have a GFX shop here on HF, and it's been treating me very well.

Fast forward a few years, I started learning video editing after growing some interest in Youtube, and so I began learning Sony Vegas Pro and applying all my GFX knowledge to speed the process and surprisingly it works in a similar way to Photoshop so I had a very easy time learning it, and after I deemed myself good enough I partnered with my Swedish friend Equinox and we launched Authentic Video Creation, the beginning to another journey...

Background:

I love music and my whole life revolves around it. Although, I have produced beats and music, my passion is truly to just play it and enjoy. I have grown up around music. My dad was a drummer since he was 15 years old and my uncle was and still is a bass player since 15, who was joined by my aunt as a singer. My grandfather was a musician and has even produced his own albums. My step-grandfather was a radio-DJ and also in quite a few bands. My Grandmother was the lead singer in a band. My mother played the bass from the ages of 13-18 in the church, my grandfather played the guitar, and my grandmother sang in the choir and played piano.

Talents:

Since all my family plays different instruments, my variety is huge. My main instruments are guitar and drums. However, I can also play piano, bass, ukulele, Madeleine, and banjo. My strongest potential is my voice though. Everybody in my voice sings except my mother. My grandfather [Radio DJ] has even taught voice classes and I've taken to grow to my maximum potential. I was grown by my whole family to be the perfect musician, however, I have chose to go down a different path as a career.

The waves clash by the eye of the shore, thus the tide is born.

I'm a developer called Callam who is from the United Kingdom. I'm currently on my second year of college studying Software Engineering. I'm hoping to do well in this year of college as last year I achieved the highest grade possible (a D*D*). When I'm not doing college work or at college, I'm on HF. I mainly use HF as a knowledge hub and browse a lot (I'm trying to and starting to get a lot more active - mainly in group sub forums).

Another thing that I do when not at college is various development tasks. Off site I own a development group that provides a variety to solutions to a variety of audiences (if you would like to see websites I've created, please private message me and I will be more than happy to send you some links). In the near future I'm planning on opening a service thread to provide my development services to the members of HackForums.

Application by Baka~

Who am I?

My name is Kenneth, I am 20 years old and living in Denmark, I don't have much to say about myself but I can be a bit shy sometimes especially when speaking with people who's really good at English, that's because I'm really shy when it comes to speaking English in front of other people because of my pronunciation + I am not the best at it, but I try doing the best I can.

Other than that I'm a really friendly guy who likes to help other people and hear them out if they need any help, I've lost a lot of friends because I've found out that they didn't really like me like they said they did - Therefore I also have trouble trusting people and that is especially in real life.

To end this off I want to say that I don't feel the urge to shit talk other people without a reason like many other people.

Why should I join riptide and how active am I?

I should join Riptide because I am a friendly guy and I wanna make other people enjoy being in the group, I like make people feel accepted and making their day.

I also wants to share my knowledge about video editing.

I am not the most active person on hf which is because I got my days.

By that I mean that some days I post a lot and other days I don't, it depends on my mood and that changes a lot because I deal with a depression(no this is not some kind of shit I say to make people feel bad about me, I'm open about it so what other people think isn't really any of my concern) so yeah, I am going to be honest and say that I can't promise to post a lot everyday(of course not spamming) but I'll try my best to do so.

My work and which programs do I use?

I have edited some IRL videos for school projects which I sadly don't have access to anymore(lost the files a long time ago, were never published online) but if I had a proper camera I may start making some of those again.

I am mostly doing counter-strike videos which is a hobby of mine, I like to be creative and I love how you can do anything you like while editing videos, by this I mean that you got such a freedom and you don't have any requirements for it, its just yourself and your editing program.

I mainly use Sony Vegas which I have been using since 2010 where I started doing CS videos. I sometimes use Adobe After Effects aswell but that isn't my specialty at all though.

I have also started using Adobe Photoshop for editing pictures but I am still learning how it works so I haven't really uploaded anything I did in that program, I don't see a point in doing that when it's shit, other than getting feedback though - which imo I don't need right now, what I need is practice.

You can find my work on my youtube channel which you can find here

I am also going to link some of my work below(some of it is unlisted also take note that some of the videos are on different channels than my main - if you do not believe that I made those then that's fine - No point in arguing with that).

Also many of those clips were cancelled due to lost motivation, sadly enough - this is a thing that I've always been struggling with.

Thanks for reading my application, good luck to anyone else that may apply.

The waves clash by the eye of the shore, thus the tide is born.

Name: Flown

Age: 19

Interested Area: I'm highly interested in the Graphical Designs part of the group, I'm fairly skilled in what I do and take great pride in my art, I'm always down for collaborations and learning/teaching new things.

What makes you unique?: It's got to be my personality, I'm always a guy down for a conversation, or a helping hand. I'm always trying to improve myself and others when and where I can.

How much can I contribute?: Well I can contribute a few hours everyday for the whole week, some situations I won't be on for a few days but I can always make up some time for that by doing a few hours of extra work.

Why Riptide?: Why not? this group peaked my interests when it was about art and music, I felt like this group was made for me because everything that I do when I design is about creating something that not only will push my limits but make others fall in love with art. I hope I can be apart of this great group and show off things that myself and others have made.

My work: I haven't done as much as i previously did but here is my old portfolio. please not that this is a few months old

I would also like to thank you for creating such a great group, i hope that my application deems worthy upon the leaders and hope to share my knowledge of designing and other things, i hope to talk to you all very soon!

Angelus - September 16, 2016, 6:17 pm

I guess I should apply... again

Alright, where should I start... hmm...

Age: 14

Interests: Reading, Writing, Drawing, Video editing, Basic GFX work.

My story: I have been writing and drawing for very long, ever since I was 5, and when I was in 4th grade I finished my first ever fictional book. And now I am currently a freshman, working on my "big break" of a novel, projected to be around 200 or more pages long, done and published by senior year. I love drawing and doodling now and then... I also love to do video editing, but since I have no youtube channel at the moment i see no particular reason to do it very much. I applied for the group a few weeks to a month ago but never got any response so I assumed it was a no go.

What I can contribute: Good constructive criticism, my works, including a teaser of the book I am writing now, Respect to my elders, and maturity.

Anything else?: Being active during school shouldnt be much of a problem but during my robotics season that starts in January, free time will be VERY limited, but I will do my best. Shoutout to my man Brenden who recommended me the group and said I should apply a while back, youre the best

Thanks in advance for reading/considering my aplication

Have a great night

Not making fancy app. Cause im on my phone and I would share my works but my phone is being an old bitch

Riyu - September 17, 2016, 4:13 pm

My name is Ryan . I am 18 years old and in college for business management and marketing. I am into music and do it as a hobby. I also like to draw, however it's not my strong suit. I love music and my whole life revolves around it. Although, I have produced beats and music, my passion is truly to just play it and enjoy. I don't have a lot of past work but I believe that this group could help better myself in the two things I love. I want to be like Glitch and be able to just put out my content out to all of HF. I currently also take a music class and jts the first of it kind in my school. We have our own studios and get to use amazing programs like Logic. It's really amazing and I've been working hard to make some quality stuff

'Cynical - September 17, 2016, 8:42 pm

Hey, I'm Cynical. I'm 17 years old. I program in PHP and C#. I do VEX Robotics, and building, designing, and programming robots for use in competition is my art. I've been doing robotics for 2 years, and I've been programming for over 4. I would love to get involved in a group that educates me on other aspects of art. I'd love to get into producing beats using software like FL Studio, as well, so it would be cool to be around a group with a similar knack for creative design as myself. I'm also slightly knowledgeable on Photoshop, and I know basic photo manipulation, such as swamping backgrounds, cropping photos, altering objects, etc.

Music ? - September 19, 2016, 2:19 am

Gli tch I had sent a message, forwarded my application to you. Thank you for having a requirement open and hope to get a response from you soon. All the best, Jyos :)

EDIT: Application below.

Had come across your thread for the application-wise in the group Riptide and am highly interested because it is based on talents for people of being in their own unique way of exploring! I am very much interested in taking part to see how other fellow members are as well have a lot to say in my own, my free time I love to DJ and keep track of latest music out. My favourite art will be in a way of still related to music (rapping) even though will not say am very good at it, still love to enjoy doing it as the most part of it is in having fun.

However, speaking of myself.. well let's to be honest there is not much to say apart from me being eight teen and love to socialise with people in getting to know someone really well as find it amazing to do so. I also love gaming and can at times become an addict towards PS4 or XBOX. (That being said to be normal).

In my free time I go out with to see family or friends to have a great laugh in feeling motivated of attending the beach, the sight view (attractions) catch my attention.I am into the world of seeing beautiful places really. - From the UK.

Had joined this forum over two months from now and ever since been very active here which will be planning to do so for a long time period in future of days passing by :)

Why I want to join this group is because HF is a community but a group having their own rules and discussions with people who can relate to you, in this seeming of being the right place for me to be. A community within the community is what "Riptide" is about, relating to people of having general discussions to their same point of views in everything or them.

I'm more of a really open person and speak about what there is to be said and this your group is based on being talk active of somewhere I was looking for and had come to the correct place.

If you will like to know anything else about me please feel free to ask, do hope that get accepted :3

I mean the last thing I remember of my own work is this.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=00YaSKaSOTA> - This guy is not that known but around 2014 I had been at the my friends studio and we both helped him produce that song of that person singing it was a client at back then.

If only I could be in this group ... good luck to all applicants

Two-Ton 21 - September 21, 2016, 2:51 pm

Not sure if there's some template that everyone is following. I'm sure my age doesn't matter too much.

Riptide seems like the perfect group to apply for after viewing my options. I'd like to join in order to recieve critique/constructive criticisms on my art. I've been playing guitar for 11 years, drawing for 16 years, and more recently, graphic design for the past 5 years. I've passed a cc course on graphic design.

If accepted, I intend to contribute to the group as much as possible. I can make video tutorials, as well I can provide graphic resources.

If my application could have more information please let me know.

Quote:I will not state my age here, nor will I talk to you about my personal life. It doesn't belong on this forum nor in this application. I'll talk about my interest toward this group instead.

I'm Light. I've been on HackForums for around six (6) years now and have seen every kind of groups come and go; fall and rise. I've been in many of them during my time around. I guess that I'm not the most active user (I can admit my faults and my bads) but I use my time on HF to be the best

I can. My job does take a lot of my time in my life.

I could also talk to you about the fact that I don't always finish the projects I start and that my AD sometimes makes me wonder around without being productive. Why am I talking to you about my bad sides in an application; would you ask? Well, because I think it's important to be aware of your low points aswell as your good ones; it certainly does applies to art. It's important to be able to accept that you're not perfect. Art is never perfect; that's what makes it so beautiful.

I would like to be part of Riptide and show you what I can do; work with you all during my free times on all the multiples projects you set. I would love to learn but also teach what I can teach; as much as I can. I'm a passionate amateur who has always used art to free his mind, from photograhly to graphic design. You can find my workshop by clicking on my signature; it could give you an idea.

Feel free to contact me via private messages if you have any questions or would like to talk to me. It would be a pleasure.

Let's create something together.

I'm also decent at making graphics but my computer recently broke so I don't have capability of making anything at the moment.
