Thread: Clearing my name

First of all, I'm not fat. I've been getting rude PM's since day one of registering, and 70% are people telling me how to eat. I don't have my weight on hand but I'm slim as heck.

Second, I'm not straight. I'm going to start building my ignore list, and you hackforums girlies are first on the list. I don't care if "it will feel good", I don't want my dong anywhere near your black hole.

Another thing worth mentioning is my reputation. Not reputation points, but members' collective perception of me. I'm great, and you guys need to learn how to accept that. I've heard potassium helps.

"I'm not fat"

OP, I'm sorry to say this but you basically just admitted to being fat but this is the internet who the fuck cares if you're overweight or a twig.

Stop taking it personally.
