Thread: Stop Singing that "If we can turn back time" Song

Ooze - May 10, 2016, 9:22 am

OK so maybe I might have exaggerated the title to get you guys to click on it, but hey its the 21st century click baiting exists.

Anyways what pisses me off is all these 12 year olds (me included) who are singing this song.

Like what? Turn back time to fucking when?, when you were like 10 or something. Ya its a catchy song and all but unless you are like 80 years old you shouldn't really want to "turn back time"

IMO

PHP Code

```
<?php
if user ="butthurt"
    then post pissy ass comment if not user contributes to thread

I can code

Songs serve as a symbol for many things throughout life, the top hits are usually just songs that relatable. The purpose of the song is to talk about when life was simpler and stress free, when his mother would take care of him and he didnt have a care in the world... Whats so wrong with that?

Also its catchy AF

Pretty sure he means Stressed Out by Twenty One Pilots. I definitely agree. I am not a fan at all. Overplayed and just not that good.

fucking hell yes

this is like the shittiest song i've heard in a while god tomsize's remix is even worse

It got way overplayed, and old really fast.

TO THE GOOD DOPE DAYSSSS

I think so, though I could be mistaken.
