Thread: Flippa website buying dondilla - May 14, 2016, 10:15 am

Had anyone ever bought a flippa website and had success with it? Been scammed or find out that the site wasn't as advertised? Just curious on people's out look about that site.

I was thinking about selling a site on there. Would love to hear more about peoples experiences with it it is an ok site but you need to check what you are buying and know what you are doing so you don't get scammed don't let the bad stories put you off give it a try

know how to word your listings is all i can say ive seen websites that coulda taken less than an hour to setup,generic logo,theme from wordpress,no traffic, etc sell for a bundle 300+ me ive tried selling my websites include everything,adsense info,separate facebook pages and twitter, a good amount of traffic everyday and i barely get 50$

so 19$+fee deducted from 50 is like 20$ T^T and not to mention sometimes people just shotgun bid and never reply if they win
