Well it's back to something we heard before.. Just me being in a weird mood.

DMX - Where the hood at (explicit).

Regarding the website, I now know what I felt was missing from "live radios" im used to.
In Denmark where I come from, they simply cant stay alive without 2 things...
Chat, and webcams... ofcourse we are HF.. webcams would be weird.. to many boners... but a chat directly on the site to communicate with others and the DJ would be great.

But would really make the website better in many ways!

In Denmark where I come from, they simply cant stay alive without 2 things...

Chat, and webcams... ofcourse we are HF.. webcams would be weird.. to many boners... but a chat directly on the site to communicate with others and the DJ would be great.

Silicon Valley - May 29, 2016, 4:49 pm

Question. How do we know your radio is legal? Your playing copyrighted music and of course you can do that. And of course you bought it (hopefully). But you also take requests. Read this:

<http://www.shouthost.com/shoutcast-icecast-music-licensing>

Just looking out for you.

Which song was that when you wanted to play Jumpman?

It sounded like an oldschool song and I wanted to Shazam it but I was too late.

Could you tell me the song?

I think it was all about that base, which i just played instead. Not sure why but i had trouble importing the song and i can't find another good version of it.

No, it wasn't that Megan Trainor song.

It sounded like it was an oldschool rap song or something hip-hop related.

If you know which one it was, let me know.

The site is pretty dank and IMO if you keep up with the request thing maybe even some skype calls from HF members it'll go up with the listeners...

I think you should make a twitch like widget for the donations that let's the others see how much one donated(just like anon is ok) you know let them put a NickName they wish and a 140 Character message it would be pretty dank!

Krule did great today/toniht!
