Thread: Is anyone else only getting around 200-300 traffic an hour?

simplecity - May 16, 2016, 11:42 pm

Just wondering if anyone else is only getting 200-300 unique adds or so every hour. I used to get around 400-500, but it appears to have steadied out at about 200-300 every hour for the past month and a half.

It's not a big deal since it still takes me about an hour to go through and talk to the 300 people so usually it times up perfectly for when I can repost on the majority of sites since they have a wait time.

I just thought it was interesting to see a random 50% decrease in traffic. I'm wondering if there's like an increase of bots or just more people finding ewhoring.

Seems like overkill to me, if its untargeted too... :/

Do you even know what you're talking about?

Danny Khalifa - May 17, 2016, 5:45 am

It's a lot, but depends on how many hours you work.

4-10 hours a day depending on how quickly I hit my quota of $150 a day and how much League of Legends I feel like playing. Not bad for watching netflix and using a method to do less effort than 99% of other e-whorers are doing.

$1500 a week to basically AFK e-whore. I'm not complaining. I think you guys need to think outside of the box.

Because you lack a basic grasp of social engineering? It's amazing how reluctant the majority of you are to actually think outside the box and develop your own methods and apply a little effort.

That's 3 hours in today. Don't assume others are incompetent just because you are. Educate yourself and put forth an ounce of effort and you'd be surprised what that can do for you.

lol check my bragging threads i know what im talking about, iv been ewhoring a long time what im saying is 300 adds an hour is a lot of work to filter through them, unless of course its already pre filtered before hitting your kik

I dont have the desire to search through threads people make to make them feel better about themselves. Give yourself a high five and pat yourself on the back for me though.

If you're happy with what you make, all the power to you. I just find it funny how much more money you guys could be making if you got creative, not to mention the effort you'd save yourself. Whatever floats your boat though lol

Your rep speaks for itself, chances are you make nothing and this little reverse engineering thread attempt isn't working.

Oh 1 of those that values internet points. You'd be an allstar on reddit. Check it out sometime.

I only use hf for my own entertainment and it definitely has its moments. As for my earnings, I couldn't be more satisfied. Discovering this has changed my life. Most of my peers work 30-40 hour weeks with school while I have plenty of time to study at my own discretion and make their week's paycheck in one night of watching netflix.

I guess my last post struck a nerve or something so I guess wasn't too far from the truth. I hope hf never changes =)

linksmakotis - May 17, 2016, 7:24 am

I get like 50 a hour :D Im guess I suck at ewhoring :D

Sorry, I'll leave you and the other insecure people that have to use that section to get your craving for attention to it.

Between your seeking the validation of strangers on the internet and your fetish for internet points, I'd recommend seeking help. That's not healthy.

I eat internet points for breakfast

Pretty sure you're not allowed to brag here. Go to bragging rights to brag about your earnings.

Prawnster - May 17, 2016, 8:58 am

Lmfao this guy XD

You just shit on everything anyone says even if they are giving valid points hahah

I like you, but I think I should hate you :P

Never know.

I think you're doing just fine if you're making $150-300 a day.

Where are you getting your traffic from?

If you're using sites, then it's probably because more E-Whores are joining as well.

Just the same recycled ones I see posted here every few days and a couple of my own I stumbled upon. My method doesn't revolve around quality like I see so many people get anal over.

I just play the numbers game, and I know every 150-200 people converts to $25-$50. Through my method that takes me about an hour to go through and then I just repeat.

I know people will claim quality traffic is where the money is at, but if you're efficient and have it down to a science, I'd argue quantity beats quality.

Are you CPA E-Whoring, or manually doing it by selling pictures etc.?

(May 18, 2016 06:33 PM)b?xy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Are you CPA E-Whoring, or manually doing it by selling pictures etc.?

Ya I sell pics and whatnot and I guarantee I'm able to go through more traffic and apply less effort than 99% of people. Basically getting paid to watch netflix.

Thanks for your guide btw. That was the first and only thing I read like 10 months ago and I took my skills with micromanagement and efficiency gained from high level gaming and applied my own twist to it, and it's literally changed my life.

I probably could have learned the basics elsewhere, but you'll always be a legend to me since I directly learned the ropes from that old thread you made.

22k. - May 18, 2016, 7:00 pm

I get that traffic easy but I pay for it.

Lol I would never pay for something that takes me 5 minutes of my time. To each his own though, I guess.

No investments no earnings. that is number ONE of business rules.

100% False.

I've invested $0 into ewhoring and have made over $1,000 in a matter of 4 months.

Funny how I haven't invested anything and still make between $150-300 a day. You shouldn't speak unless you know what you're talking about. You just embarrass yourself lol.

I'm pretty sure rule 1 of business is not to waste money on stupid shit.
