Three things are a must in this order

Nice color
Best resolution
Response time

I want picture quality without sacrificing performance

What monitor is a good happy medium?

I have a sapphire radeon 7870 Flex 1ghz gpu budget? That gpu looks like it wont do any better than 1080p for gaming so what best resolutions were you looking to get?

I recommend the Asus VG248QE, only complaint is that the color is bad when you first get it you have to search around the internet and find a good profile that suits you but for the resolution it is 1920 x 1080, the response time is super low with a 1 ms response time. Plus it is also 144hz worth the money in my opinion best monitor I've ever owned. Sort of a high budget monitor but its worth it.
