Code a href="data:application/x-x509-user-cert;base64,PHNjcmlwdD5hbGVydCgxKTwwc2NyaXB0Pg==">click

Viam Inveniemus - May 19, 2016, 4:01 pm

I totally know what to do with this information.

It's a simple a href.

Throw it in a HTML file. Tada. Click the button and then Google Chrome crashes.

Gigabear - May 19, 2016, 4:11 pm

pretty spoooooooky stuff you got there.

Tech - May 19, 2016, 4:17 pm

Here I was bored so I uploaded it to my site. GL crashing someones browser I guess

www.mattc.pw/crash

Crashed my Android Chrome. Lol

YoungTriggerBot - May 19, 2016, 4:22 pm

Oooooo so this is what Chrome 0day means. Welp I guess you learn something new everyday huh ;)

No I was selling for 2k.

J?son - May 19, 2016, 4:25 pm

what kind of hacker shit is this?

2spooky4me

Gigabear - May 19, 2016, 4:40 pm

people were selling this? wow so spooky you disabled my ability to use chrome for 20 seconds!

Mino - May 19, 2016, 4:41 pm

<http://skypebook.pw/crash.html>

This link will instantly crash chrome users! Have fun

The Chosen One - May 19, 2016, 4:42 pm

Here is another chrome bug: you can trigger a memory leak by programmatically setting an images source attribute!!!!

Will sell source code for $1000 BTC.

OfficialHeisenberg - May 20, 2016, 11:02 am

Good thing I don't use chrome.

V3t3r4n - May 20, 2016, 11:04 am

Firefox master race baby. You can't even take my phone down

Vouch. Even works on Android.

Faith Connors - May 20, 2016, 1:35 pm

This is actually kinda cool, thanks!

Gone4Ever - May 20, 2016, 1:37 pm haha nice one :)

tnx bro

no...

"A zero day vulnerability refers to a hole in software that is unknown to the vendor. This security hole is then exploited by hackers before the vendor becomes aware and hurries to fix it—this exploit is called a zero day attack."

Wireless Network - May 20, 2016, 1:46 pm

That's why i'm using firefox!

yeah, its like and exploit that is still unknown by the dev, so only the buyer or the "hacker" knows it, most of the time it is for sale for big money :)

so this isnt a 0 day anymore :p

Junx - May 20, 2016, 2:34 pm

This is only useful is someone is doing a timed online exam, playing a game or something.

Still funny to piss people off tho

'Cynical - May 20, 2016, 2:39 pm

Step 1. Set an html page automatically set to crash the user's browser as home page.

Step 2. ??????

Step 3. Be a l33t hacker.

I dunno what worst. The constant crashing or the fact they will have to use edge/ie

Generally it's considered a 1day if it's a 0day that been released.

After a patch it dropped, it's a 2day like most exploits.
