

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: iPad Jailbroken... broken

SourceGameZ - May 20, 2016, 3:14 am heyyyyyyyy so.

a while back i jailbroke, already had a jailbroken phone, so i sort of knew what i was doing.

so all good, jailbroken

but now i cant install stuff, or update anything.

i've removed all my stuff from cydia... still didn't fix it....

and whenever i restart my iPad, all the stuff i've deleted comes back....

really frustrating...

i need to free space as well.... but i can't because of it

C0ldplay - May 20, 2016, 3:15 am

Reset your iPad. It's the only way.

SourceGameZ - May 20, 2016, 3:21 am

its got a few things i'd like to keep...

Wade Wilson - May 20, 2016, 4:04 pm

(May 20, 2016 03:21 AM)SourceGameZ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) its got a few things i'd like to keep...
Save those thing lol.

[Rn] 7s^2 - May 20, 2016, 10:16 pm

(May 20, 2016 03:15 AM)rob_ert Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Reset your iPad. It's the only way.

We should never reset an iOS device if it is jailbroken. It will be stucked at Apple logo or loading screen, if by reset, you mean Reset All Settings.

SourceGameZ - May 20, 2016, 10:18 pm

(May 20, 2016 10:16 PM)vipulcoolrule Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) We should never reset an iOS device if it is jailbroken. It will be stucked at Apple logo or loading screen, if by reset, you mean Reset All Settings.

i think he means factory reset.

GamersHeaven - May 20, 2016, 10:22 pm

The two things you can do are either factory reset or update your iPad.

[Rn] 7s^2 - May 21, 2016, 7:02 am

(May 20, 2016 10:18 PM)SourceGameZ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) i think he means factory reset.
Oh Ok. Maybe I can help. Can you tell me which iPad is it? Exact model?

ninjayoshi565 - May 21, 2016, 8:27 pm

Use Cydia Impactor (<http://apt.saurik.com/beta/cy-impactor/>) after creating an iTunes backup.

Lets you restore your iPad to your stock iOS firmware without updating to the newest version so you can jailbreak again without any previous problems from cydia on your iPad.

