Hi friends

i have question: if my site behind cloudflare (the 200$ plan) can people php backdoor my site or sql inject ?

and do you know some trust security company that offer code review service to secure code ? if you do please link the most trust companies only i dont care about the expenses.

thank you

you can fix sqli by using an up to date SQL version.

PHP backdoor can happen no matter what you have.

300 posts and -17 rep? The amount of posts don't reflect on the quality of the user or what user group they should belong to.

In response to op, yes. Cloud flare only protects you from ddos attacks.
