Thread: [\[Minecrafters\] Faction Server Builders Recruitment \[3 Group Spots\]](#)

Motiv - May 23, 2016, 4:55 pm

Minecrafters is officially launching their factions server for the HF community, and this is a perfect opportunity to get some new faces in the group. We have 3 group spots available for skilled builders to help create our spawn, PvP Arena, and shop. Specifications will be given to those who are accepted into the group.

Want to apply? Post your previous work and builds below!

Thanks to all applicants, and we are looking forward to seeing three new member soon.

The IP is private until the server is finished. It's currently just a generated world with plugins. We are looking for a few skilled builders to help change that lol.

If you can show us your building skills then you'll get the IP.

Feel free to build something in single player and screenshot it, or at least give some qualifications or descriptions of past builds and project. Thanks!

I would love the oportunity to build with another group of people from HF. I need to keep this up-to-date, but here are a few pictures from one multi-form build that I worked on quite a while ago.

I usually do larger scale building better than small details. I am not saying that I am incapable. It is just a preference to me. :)"3

I applaud your timing, just when HC went to shit you're doing this. Very smart.
Curious as to how this will work out!
