Thread: Multiple Skype Open Code \(Windows\)

'originalmobz - May 25, 2016, 1:15 pm

Hello I know that there may be methods on this but I haven't seen any as of yet so I decided to post this.

Below is a code on how to run multiple Skype programs on Windows OS.

First create a new text document on your desktop. Double click the file – it should be blank inside. Now, go to file>save as, and in the “Save As” window, input a name for your BAT file and then add a “.bat” on the end (without the quotes). You can save this as multipleskype.bat

Code cd "C:\Program Files (x86)\Skype\phone\" skype.exe/secondary
By lacocaina
exit
@echo off
Title SKYPE TOOL. ~~By By lacocaina Skype multiplier
Hope this has help.?

Yes you can just enter the command. But for people who just want to click a desktop icon and it opens this is for you. Simplicity :)

Bit of a old head. ? Plus I used it for years before I decided to share. Back in 2013 when the skid rampage was on you need alot of skypes open. Also there was a very easy skype jacking method through support around that time so skype were getting jacked like hot cakes.
