Been listening to him for awhile. He was dropping a song every week. Super consistent with a great flow and good lyrics. Word play isnt the most intricate but its up there

Sorry no hate but this is worse than rich gang. I'm not being a dickhead, but I don't see how this falls under rap. Play this song without the instrumental then hmu with a review.

Also, sorry if this seems like a dickhead review as I've only listened to one song which you deemed as your favorite. This is just my personal opinion anyhow. The flow just seems really mainstream.
